Good Morning!

This was a difficult year to plan our annual Big Bend trip. Our youth seem to be busier than ever and, no matter what days we pick, there always seem to be conflicts. It's for this very reason activities like Big Bend are so important. Between jobs, school, sports and social lives, teenagers today have very little time to relax and reflect.

With so much going on, it's easy to find yourself overwhelmed. In Matthew Chapter 6, Jesus told His followers not to worry about earthly things. He told them to “consider the lilies of the field, how they grow.” The Greek word translated as “consider” is “Katamanthano”. The literal meaning is “to observe well, notice carefully, learn thoroughly, consider.” In order to teach them, He pointed out “how God clothes the grass” and reminds them if God takes such care to clothe the grass “will He not much more clothe you?” God can teach us a lot about himself through nature, but we have to slow down enough to observe it carefully and actually “see” it. The world wants to keep us busy, so we miss it. Let's all slow down a little and see what we can learn.

Let us also remember to keep our teenagers in our prayers – not just this week at Big Bend when they will be reflecting on how they can shine like stars “in a crooked and perverse generation” (Philippians 2:12-18) – but every day.
