From Gathering to Worship

On September 20, we added a five-minute countdown on the screens to help us transition from fellowship and conversation into worship. When the countdown reaches zero, the Prelude begins—and so does our worship. We invite you to be seated and allow the music to prepare your heart for worship.

At the conclusion of the service, please remain through the choir's Benediction Response, which is also an intentional part of our worship together.

From the first notes to the last, we worship God together.

People: We give thanks for the saints who have gone before us.

Leader: Today we remember their witness and look to Jesus, the pioneer and perfecter of our faith.

People: With grateful hearts, we worship the God whose love holds us in life, in death, and in the promise of resurrection.

Eternal God, in the reading of the Scripture, may your Word be heard; in the meditation of our hearts, may your Word be known; and in the faithfulness of our lives, may your Word be shown. Amen.

Invitation

Prayer of Confession

Leader: Let us confess our sin before God and one another.

All: Merciful God, you have surrounded us with witnesses to your love and faithfulness, yet we confess that we some times lose sight of the path before us. We carry burdens we struggle to release, allow fear to shape our decisions, and forget the grace that has sustained us through the generations. Forgive us when we become so focused on ourselves that we fail to see your presence in others. Renew our faith, strengthen our hope, and help us follow Jesus with perseverance and love.

In Christ's name we pray. Amen.

Assurance of Pardon

Leader: Hear the good news: Our hope rests not in the perfection of those who came before us, nor in our own ability to remain faithful, but in the grace of Jesus Christ.

Through Christ, we are forgiven, renewed, and welcomed into the communion of saints.
