This week marks the ninth anniversary of FBC's calling Rev. Dr. Jeremy Myers to be our pastor. As we begin Dr. J's tenth year leading us here at FBC Seymour, he and Robyn will be spending the month of January in Florida and Mexico on the second leg of their sabbatical. While the summer leg in July was focused on the whole Myers family experiencing one last family trip before the kids moved on to trade school and ministry, this January leg is a chance for Dr. J and Robyn to get away to re-charge and connect as a couple for an extended period of time as they enter this new season as empty-nesters. In his absence, it will give our FBC family the chance to hear from our other three pastors in the pulpit, along with Mark Thompson (our ABC IN/KY Executive Director) and Jordan Morris (the camp director at Indian Creek, our ABC region camp).

The concept of a sabbatical comes from the biblical idea of Sabbath rest, which originates with God's resting on the seventh day after creation (Genesis 2:1-4). In the Old Testament, the Sabbath was a 24-hour period each week for ceasing from regular work and responsibilities to focus on rest, reflection and renewal. There was also a Sabbath year, observed every seventh year (Leviticus 25:1-7), when the people of Israel would allow the land to lie fallow for a year, which helped to replenish the nutrients in the soil and allow for more productive harvests. A sabbatical in our context is really an extended Sabbath, a longer period of time off away from pastoral duties that allows for physical, mental, spiritual and emotional recovery from the demands of work and life.

Dr. J has now faithfully served FBC Seymour for nine years, pouring his heart and soul into our church and our community. That is more than 4 years longer than the average tenure of a senior pastor in America today. He wrestles weekly with the biblical text so deeply and intensely because he cares so greatly about the spiritual health of those who call FBC Seymour home. He desires for all of us to understand and apply God's Word to our lives at the deepest level, and he works unceasingly to help us do so. Yet, as Charles Spurgeon, the great English Baptist preacher once said to his Pastor's College students, "Rest time is not waste time. It is economy to gather fresh strength. . . . It is wisdom to take occasional furlough."

We have already benefitted greatly from what Dr. J experienced on the July trip following the journeys of Paul, and I have no doubt this leg of the sabbatical will strengthen Dr. J to come back and minister with clearer vision and renewed intensity without burning out. Please join me in prayer over the next month for our pastor and his wife that they will travel safely, that they will experience the Lord's Sabbath rest and renewal, and return recharged and ready for the next season of fruitful ministry here at FBC Seymour!
