

Recently I came across some advertisements for pizza, and of the many that were highlighted, one particular ad caught my attention. It said, "Pizza is our religion."

And while Christianity is our religion, I think that the practices of our faith contain some similarities to pizza deliveries, and on Sunday we will not only gather around the Lord's Table for communion, but we will also look at a passage from Mark's gospel that will steer our focus of worship in regard to "Jesus and the Pizza Delivery Dude."

I hope that you will be able to join us at 8:30 a.m. or 10:30 a.m. for a time of worship as celebrate in sacrament and song, in prayer and praise, and in faith and fellowship. I will look forward to seeing you on Sunday.
