

On Sunday, we will be blessed with three wonderful reasons to join our sisters and brothers in the faith at church —

Reason #1 – Beginning the week by worshiping God. In all that we do, worship is shown to be primarily a life-giving and life-renewing act, since we worship whomever or whatever we affirm as possessing true power to affect people's lives. Indeed, Jesus tells us that He "has come that we might have life, and have it abundantly."

Reason #2 – Our faithful elders will again be hosting our Second Sunday Sessions in the Upper Room after the early service at approximately 9:45 a.m., and again following our later service at 11:30 a.m. All of us are invited to come this gathering of saints as we discuss the life and direction of Las Placitas Presbyterian Church.

Reason #3 – We will be blessed to welcome Kathy Jackson from the Presbytery's Commission on Ministry to our church on Sunday. Not only will she be present in worship, but she will also be present with us at both Second Sunday Sessions in order to listen to us as well as assisting us in our understanding of the process for calling a new pastor.

Additional Reason #4 – There are always some delicious refreshments after worship!!!

As always, I anticipate the joy of seeing all of you on Sunday. May God bless you in all that you do.
