LITANY OF DEDICATION
*"We now, the people of this church and congregation,
grateful for our heritage
and mindful of the sacrifices of those who have gone before, consecrate ourselves anew to the worship of God
in spirit and truth,
and to the service of all people in the spirit of Christ,
and we dedicate this building with all its furnishings
in the Name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Spirit.
Amen."*

PONDERINGS
"Called men and women can come from the strangest places and carry the most unique qualifications. They may be the unnoticed, the unappreciated, the unsophisticated. Look again at the men Christ picked: few if any of them would have been candidates for high positions in organized religion or big business. It is not that they were unusually awkward. It is just that they were among the ordinary. But Christ called them, and that made all the difference.

"Rather than living according to drivenness, some are drawn toward the beckoning hand of the calling Father. Such calls are usually heard within an ordered private world." Gordon MacDonald,
"Ordering Your Private World"

"Remember that a call of God is a two-sided call — there is a call 'to' a work, and there is a call 'from' the present work. I like to think that the Lord sets both in motion at the same time ..."
— Peter Marshall
