

Parents

By Pastor Steve Weihsmann on 4/14/2020

My father was a mechanical engineer. He also liked to paint.

Here are a couple of humorous paintings he did of himself and my mom. Next to it is the photo of what they really looked like about the time the painting was done.

We all have “pictures” of God in our minds. But they are not all accurate. We may perceive that God is just and forget that He is also kind. Or see Him as kind and forget that He is holy. Or connect with His holiness and miss that He has a sense of humor. Which is why we need to spend time with the whole Bible.

In Isaiah 46:5 God asks, “To whom would you liken Me and make Me equal and compare Me, that we would be alike?” God is unique. But He is knowable, and eager that we become His friends. We will know Him when we have searched out the “whole counsel of God,” as the Bible is sometimes called.

PRAYER: “LORD, thank you for being accessible to us. Help us to know You as You are, not as we imagine You to be or wish You to be. Amen.”
