

COVID-19 Statement to Springboro Baptist Church

March 24, 2020

11:30 a.m.

Here's a quick update for you. It's amazing how quickly things have changed in a week. No one can predict with certainty what's ahead, so we continue to place our confidence in the only One who knows what the future holds.

- No services or activities on March 29 & April 5
- Facebook Live will be broadcast at 9:30 a.m. both weeks
- Beginning tomorrow (3/25) the Church Office will be closed and staff will be working from home
- An informational letter is being mailed today to all of our members and active attenders

As we practice physical distancing to help slow the spread of the coronavirus, let's find ways to be more socially engaged with each other. Isolation breeds loneliness and despair for many, especially those who live alone. Try to spend some time each day calling someone, writing a note, sending an email or text.

While you're spending time at home read a good book. Here are a few of my favorites:

In His Steps — Charles Sheldon

This is a class written long ago. I've read it many times and recommend it highly.

The Testament — John Grisham

Not a "Christian" book but a tale of suspense that clearly weaves the Gospel through one of the main characters.

Destiny of the Republic: A Tale of Madness, Medicine and the Murder of a President — Candice Millard

I read this last year. Fascinating account of the assassination of President James Garfield.

A Praying Life — Paul E. Miller

One of the resources we used during our 30 Days of Prayer.

Mission at Nuremberg: An American Army Chaplain and the Trial of the Nazis — Tim Townsend

A gripping story of the American Army chaplain sent to save the souls of the Nazis incarcerated at Nuremberg. I read this one a few years ago. Hopefully you'll like it as much as I did.

Please do everything you can to stay healthy. See you soon!
