Discover More about the Message

Message Introduction: Intro: God teaches us through the scriptures when it comes to our possessions that we should always 1) Trust God, 2) Know and believe that we have enough, and 3) Have a plan for all that God has blessed us with. God's first people were called to demonstrate this loyalty and love for God and putting God first by giving the first fruits of their harvest before the rest of it had come in and they knew the outcome (feast or famine). Whatever the outcome, we give to God what is God's first, learn to be content and trust that God will amply supply us all we need to live and thrive.

Deuteronomy 26:1-2, 8-10

¹When you have come into the land that the LORD your God is giving you as an inheritance to possess, and you possess it, and settle in it, ²you shall take some of the first of all the fruit of the ground, which you harvest from the land that the LORD your God is giving you, and you shall put it in a basket and go to the place that the LORD your God will choose as a dwelling for his name. ³You shall go to the priest who is in office at that time, and say to him, "Today I declare to the LORD your God that I have come into the land that the LORD swore to our ancestors to give us." ⁴When the priest takes the basket from your hand and sets it down before the altar of the LORD your God, ⁵you shall make this response before the LORD your God: "A wandering Aramean was my ancestor; he went down into Egypt and lived there as an alien, few in number, and there he became a great nation, mighty and populous. ⁶When the Egyptians treated us harshly and afflicted us, by imposing hard labor on us, ⁷we cried to the LORD, the God of our ancestors; the LORD heard our voice and saw our affliction, our toil, and our oppression. ⁸The LORD brought us out of Egypt with a mighty hand and an outstretched arm, with a terrifying display of power, and with signs and wonders; ⁹and he brought us into this place and gave us this land, a land flowing with milk and honey. ¹⁰So now I bring the first of the fruit of the ground that you, O LORD, have given me." You shall set it down before the LORD your God and bow down before the LORD your God.

Hebrews 13:1-2, 5-6, 15-16

¹Let mutual love continue. ²Do not neglect to show hospitality to strangers, for by doing that some have entertained angels without knowing it. ⁵Keep your lives free from the love of money, and be content with what you have; for he has said, "I will never leave you or forsake you." ⁶So we can say with confidence, "The Lord is my helper; I will not be afraid. What can anyone do to me?"

¹⁵Through him, then, let us continually offer a sacrifice of praise to God, that is, the fruit of lips that confess his name. ¹⁶Do not neglect to do good and to share what you have, for such sacrifices are pleasing to God.

+ Close in the Lord's Prayer:

Our Father, who art in heaven, hallowed be thy name, thy kingdom come, thy will be done, on earth as it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread; and forgive us our trespasses, as we forgive those who trespass against us; and lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil. For thine is the kingdom, and the power, and the glory, forever and ever. Amen.

Five Minutes with God

Introduction. Naming the things we are grateful for is a valuable spiritual practice that helps us become more aware of the blessings in our lives. The writer of Hebrews, however, doesn't ask us to be grateful but to be content with what we have. Contentment is deeper than gratitude. When we are content, we are at peace and at ease with all that we have and even all that we don't have. We have enough, knowing that God assures us, "I will never leave you or forsake you."

Spiritual Practice. There is no practice that can make us feel content. We can, however, become more open to contentment by practicing gratitude, saying no to more than is necessary, and trusting that God will never leave or forsake us. Each day from now until Thanksgiving, write down at least one thing you are grateful for and at least one time you said no to more than you needed. This is hard when Black Friday sales are already telling us we need more! When we are aware of how blessed we are with what we already have, though, contentment will follow.
