

Rosaria Butterfield's:

The Gospel Comes With a House Key

Practicing Radically Ordinary Hospitality in Our Post-Christian World

DATE & TIME: Thursday, July 25, from 7 – 9 p.m.

DISCUSSION LEADERS: Karen Long and Carolyn McGuire
karen@kappastudios.com (or cell 818.535.9832)

LOCATION: The home of Carolyn McGuire (cell 818.681.3752)
BELCARO, 28303 River Trail Lane, Valencia, 91354

PREPARATION: Plan to be personally challenged as you enjoy this great collection of stories and insights! I think we'll reap the most benefit from our discussion time if we read each of the chapters (including preface and conclusion) with the following three questions in mind:

- 1. What is "radically ordinary hospitality," and how does Rosaria practice it?
- 2. What are the benefits, and biblical support, for Rosaria's hospitality lifestyle?
- 3. What keeps most of us from opening our homes to the "strangers" around us?

SUGGESTION: Try to read each chapter with these key questions in mind, and highlight your favorite insights using a different color for each of the corresponding questions. When we all meet together in July, the highlights will aid our discussion of the questions as we review the chapters chronologically.

CHALLENGE: As you read about the Butterfield family's lively household, be thinking how their example might translate in your own home and neighborhood. Has the book sparked some great new ideas of your own? Let us know!
