

Still

Lord, still my heart.
Slow me down. Silence my restless mind. I sit before you, surrendering, waiting.
Lord, still my heart.

Steal

Lord, steal my heart.
I thank you for your new mercies, your provision in Jesus, your provision for all my needs, and even for the difficult things you are refining me through. I worship you for you are a Good, Loving, Just, and Great God.
Everything is answered in you. Glory to you God.
Lord, steal my heart.

Steel

Lord, steel my heart.
Like the strongest of bonds may your words be bound in my heart. I confess and repent my weaknesses and unbelief. I desire your covering over me today that I may be effective for your kingdom and your glory. I raise to you my petitions for those I know in need and those who are lost without you.
Lord, steel my heart.