Updating Prayer List:

Use the Connection Cards to remove or add names, or contact the church office at 478-923-7317, and be sure to let us know about yourself or a family member. Names of persons outside the church will be removed after 4 weeks.

Every believer has surely come to appreciate the experience of God's Word coming alive before their eyes. How many times has a passage spoken to the very difficulty you are having, or you found that a verse perfectly applies to the struggle that a friend shared with you earlier that day? Other times, I find myself amazed that a section of the Bible I have read over and over again reveals yet another piece of wisdom that I did not remember seeing previously. It happened to me last week, reading through Paul's letter to the Philippians. In 2:4 he says, "Instead of each person watching out for their own good, watch out for what is better for others." It is simple, yet captures the essence of the Gospel for those who have professed their faith in Christ; we are to look out for others, since we now trust that God is looking out for us.

I saw that on display this past weekend, as we hosted the boys and girls of the Matsiko Children's Choir. Hailing from Peru, Nepal, India, and Liberia, our congregation opened its arms to welcome them. We sought to watch out for their good and the good of orphaned children around the world that they represent. I loved watching our church interact with the children and adults.

I did not know what was in store for our church, or myself, as the boys and girls headed down from the balcony in the 8:30 Worship Service to sing. What I received for the next three hours, however, was nothing short of divine joy and hope. Now I can see clearly, that as I played a small part in watching out for what was good for these children of God, God was watching out for what was needed in my heart. Just like that, the Word of God comes alive, again.

We welcome members and visitors to this place. God wants to connect with us and does that best through our relationships with others. Ask one of our staff or leaders about Sunday School, Bible studies, one-on-one discipleship, table groups, small groups, and retreats throughout the year. There is plenty to do, but no pressure to do all of it. Connect with us online, on Sundays, or in the office during the week if we can help. Grace and peace, Scott
