Pastor Robertson Shares Words of Wisdom

In 2009, Pastor Robertson wrote a sermon entitled "Heaven". For the next weeks we will share excerpts from his sermon. This is part 6.

"Great Mental Gain - The thirst for knowledge, which is impossible to gain here, will be satisfied. The great soul-problems that have vexed the thoughtful of all ages will find easy solutions. The strange mysteries of providence that have tortured the soul and have been shrouded in darkness will be unraveled, to the perfect satisfaction of the heart.
"What we have seen of God as through a glass darkly, we will see face to face. What we now know only in part, we shall then comprehend in all its completeness. In the white light of eternity we shall have perfect vision.
"Moral and Spiritual Gain - The very air we breathe is filled with vice. Solicitation to evil assails us on every hand, and sin seeks admission through every window of the soul.
"The holiest of men on earth are exposed to Satan's fiery darts. Satan desires to destroy the best of us.
"In heaven all will be changed. "The accuser of the brethren" can never mingle in its society or darken its streets. The holiness of heaven means the absence of all that can mar its beauty or disturb its joy.
"Social Gain - Heaven will be filled with loving fellowship. Our imperfect judgments of each other here mar our relationships. There our minds and spirits will be clear of all their imperfections.
"There love will be supreme. Harmony will prevail. We shall have fellowship with the great people of God who were loyal and true during their lives."
