A Word From Mr. Rodewald

“Faith to Be Patient” By James Merritt

Most people would describe patience as a good character trait. But did you know that, as a Christian, patience is intimately tied to your faith in God?

If we are being honest, many of us will admit that patience is a quality more admired than possessed. Why do you think businesses came up with the concept of "Instant Noodles," "3-in-1 Shampoo," "Fast Food Restaurants," "Instant Messaging," etc.? It is because we are living in an "instant world," and we have to cope with today's fast pace environment.

Everything around us screams, "Hurry up!" We have become conditioned to it so much that it now seems normal to be hurried, frustrated, and exhausted. So with that in mind, let me ask you this: how is this "instant mania" affecting our spiritual lives? Do we expect instant answers from God when we pray for something? Do we even understand the concept of waiting on God...much less know how to do it?

The apostle Paul lists patience, or long-suffering, as one of the fruits of the Spirit (Galatians 5:22). Patience in a biblical sense is not just a question of temperament; it is a way of training our inner spirit to persevere as we trust God to fulfill the promises found in His Word. As Christians, patience means learning to take the long path rather than the easy one.

Patience will always require trusting in God. If we go forth in our own strength, we will faint and utterly fall; but setting our hearts and our hopes in the Lord, we will be carried above all circumstances. It is then that we are able to lay hold of the prize of our high calling in Christ Jesus. God is ever gracious to all that come to Him by faith in Christ; and blessed are those who persevere (James 5:11).

During Chapel this month, we'll look at stories that demonstrate PATIENCE, waiting until later for what you want now. Teachers and staff will be on the lookout for students showing PATIENCE and making a difference in their classroom, at home, or in the community. At the end of the month, staff will nominate students they feel have demonstrated the trait of PATIENCE. Those students will receive the Eagle Character Award, celebrate with ice cream and have their picture in the May Newsletter. Classes may have one nominee, multiple nominees, or may not have a nominee. We are looking for students to really listen to God's Word and put it into action.

The Art of Discipline: Making It Helpful

By Gina McClain

Shepherding the hearts of our kids is one of those daily behaviors that does more to refine and challenge me than anything else in my life. In my interactions with my kids, God reveals more to me about my own humanity than I care to know. Particularly in disciplinary situations. One thing I've learned about kids is that I cannot control their actions. There are times when I try. There are times I guide, nudge, remind, even harass... yet, in the end, they decide what action they will take. Not me. I don't know about you, but that really gets under my skin. It's something I have to actively submit to the Father asking Him for guidance and patience. Recently I was reminded of these words in Ephesians 4:29: "Don't say anything that would hurt [another person]. Instead, speak only what is good so that you can give help wherever it is needed. That way, what you say will help those who hear you." (GWT) It's a timely reminder for me that my role as mom is to Fight for the Heart of my kids, to create a culture of unconditional love in my home that fuels their emotional and moral health. Approaching discipline in a way that is helpful takes practice, planning and patience.

1. I need to practice they way that I talk to my kids.

That means that through my everyday interactions I need to habitually speak words that are helpful to them. It's easier to do this in positive interactions than negative. However, if I fail to speak helpful words in a positive interaction, it's guaranteed I won't speak them in a negative interaction.

2. Good discipline is preceded by good planning.

If my child makes the wrong decision, what are the consequences? Do my kids know those consequences? There have been times we've sent a child to their room letting them know, "We're going to think about the right consequences for your action. In a little while we'll sit down with you and talk through them."

3. Patience is critical when fighting for the heart of a child.

Why? Because kids are going to make mistakes. And my ability to be patient with their mistakes communicates an unconditional love to them. They need a safe place to mess up and know that they are capable of doing better the next time.

Patience is a discipline I continue to wrestle down. I'm inherently impatient. Which of these are harder for you?

Chapel Focus: SHINE*

Something special happens in a person when they choose to follow Jesus and do what He says. A light begins to shine. The closer they follow Jesus, the brighter the light becomes. They can't hide it, nor would they want to. It's the light of Jesus shining through them for the world to see.

Scripture Focus: Matthew 5:16

"Let your light shine."

*3s-PreK participate in weekly chapel services, every Monday from 9:30-9:50 in the K-8 Chapel. We sing 3 worship songs with hand motions and watch a Bible Story video based on that month's theme.

The month of April is a busy time as we prepare for parent conferences and our Spring Program & Graduation that will take place in May. Busyness may make us feel important in our worldly settings, but we must be careful that it doesn't take time away from our personal intimacy with God. We are so grateful to have the opportunity to partner with you in the growth and development of your student and look forward to meeting with you this month. Jordan

"Come to me, all who labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest." Matthew 11:28

April Preschool Memory Verses

"The plans of the diligent lead surely to abundance, but everyone who is hasty comes only to poverty." Proverbs 21:5

"Be joyful in hope, patient in affliction, faithful in prayer." Romans 12:12
