WEEK OF
Sept. 27th

THIS WEEK IN THE BACKYARD

Bible:

Genesis 6-9: 11

Big Idea:

Sin has consequences,
but God promised to rescue us.

Memory Verse:

Genesis 9:15

I will remember my covenant that is between me and you and every living creature of all flesh. And the waters shall never again become a flood to destroy all fesh.

What We Learned:

When people disobey God, it is called sin. There are consequences for sin. But God promised to make a way for people to be rescued from sin. We can trust God's promises.

Practice at Home

This Week's Challenge:

GENESIS 6-9: 11

God Judges. God Saves. God Keeps His Promises.

Sin had spread throughout the world, and God judged humanity through the flood. But God showed grace to Noah and his family, saving them in the ark. After the flood, God made a covenant with Noah and promised never again to destroy the earth with a flood. The rainbow became a sign of that promise.

But humanity continued to rebel against God. At Babel, people tried to make a name for themselves rather than honor God. God confused their language and scattered them across the earth.

These stories remind us that God takes sin seriously, but He is also gracious and faithful to save and keep His promises. The ark points us forward to Jesus, who is our ultimate refuge from God's judgment. We don't save ourselves...we trust in the One God provided to save us.

Big Idea:

God judges sin, saves His people, and always keeps His promises.

Talk About It:

Ask your child what they remember about Noah, the flood, God's covenant, and the Tower of Babel. Look for opportunities to point them beyond Noah to Jesus.

Read Together:

Read Genesis 6-9; 11 together.

If your child is younger, read slowly and stop to ask:

- Why did God send the flood?
- What does this teach us about how God feels about sin?
- Why was Noah saved?
- Was Noah perfect? What does the story teach us about God's grace?
- How does the ark point us to Jesus?
- How is Jesus a place of safety from God's judgment?
- Can you think of a promise God has made to His people?
- Why can we trust God's promises?

Family Activity

BUILD YOUR OWN ARK

Work together as a family to build an ark using whatever you have at home: LEGOs, blocks, cardboard, popsicle sticks, blankets, or even couch cushions!

Then read Genesis 6:18 together:

"But I will establish my covenant with you . . ."
