

WEEK FOUR

Parents,

At this point, most of your kids have been out of school for over a month, maybe two. Do you feel you are now qualified to work at the United Nations? Experiencing any sibling-on-sibling crime?

Well, this week's theme is PEACE. The first resource is How to Guide without Control, a brief video that inspires parents on how to guide your teenager without controlling them.

I also included Parental Proverbs, which provides you with thirty-one days of blessings for your teenager, along with a verse from Proverbs.
