Blanketed in the Comforting Weight of God's Eternal Promises

Five days into the month of April we will celebrate Jesus' victory over death on Easter Sunday. Accordingly, I'd like to share with you a devotional entry I recently wrote for this year's Pittsburgh Seminary Lenten Devotional. It lifts up the powerful comfort that comes from knowing that our eternal future is secured by our risen Lord, based on a text from 2 Corinthians 4:14-18 and my reflections on a really cool thing that our very own Silver Thimbles quilting group did a few months ago. Here it is...I hope it encourages you.

Quilts have a powerful capacity for transmitting comfort. That's exactly what the Holy Spirit has been doing through our congregation's quilting group, who recently shared with me the names of several people they had given a handsewn quilt. I praised God as I pictured each of these recipients being comforted in their afflictions by the Holy Spirit along with a quilt delivered by these agents of care.

In 2 Corinthians, the Apostle Paul shares honestly his own struggles in a way that invites us to consider our own. Some struggles present themselves as minor inconveniences; others threaten to unravel the very fabric of our lives. Those of us called by God to ministries of care get a front row seat to observe the suffering of others. As our Lenten journey draws closer to Holy Week, we ready ourselves to witness the suffering of Jesus for our sake.

We are well-acquainted with the aspects of life and loss that drain us of our hope and give rise to feelings of discouragement. Paul's bold claim that "we do not lose heart" (v. 16) seems remarkable. What gives Paul such hopeful confidence in the face of what he knows is "wasting away?" He describes a renewal of our inner nature that is happening day by day, springing from an eternal source, a "weight of glory" that when compared to our afflictions make them seem light. It's a confidence we have because "the one who raised Jesus will also raise us with Jesus" (v. 14).

This eternal weight of glory that we have in Christ is like the comfort of quilts, the old-school version of today's weighted blankets, prescribed for those who suffer from stress and anxiety. The weight of the blanket provides something like a human hug, deep pressure stimulation that settles us into calmness. This describes well what happens when we consider ourselves blanketed in the comforting weight of God's eternal promises.

Prayer: God of all comfort, thank you for those who receive your comfort and pass it along to others, sometimes with a quilt that wraps us in warmth. Remind us of the eternal weight of glory we have in Jesus that wraps us in comfort amid our afflictions, renewing our hope. Amen.

Living into Easter hope,

Pastor Kurt

Holy Week at North Creek Presbyterian Church

Holy Week is the most sacred stretch of the Christian calendar, a journey that moves from remembrance and sorrow to the joy of resurrection. It invites believers to reflect deeply on the final days of Jesus' earthly ministry and the hope that emerges from the empty tomb.

Maundy Thursday

Thursday, April 2 at 7:30 PM

Maundy Thursday invites us to remember the Lord's Last Supper with His disciples. On this sacred night, we reflect on the final moments Jesus shared in the upper room before His arrest and crucifixion. The service highlights three profound events: Jesus washing the disciples' feet, His new commandment to love one another, and the institution of the Lord's Supper. The word Maundy comes from the Latin mandatum novum, meaning "new commandment."

Good Friday Service

Friday, April 3 at 7:30 PM

Good Friday invites us to remember the crucifixion of Jesus and the depth of God's love shown through His willing sacrifice. This solemn service will lead us to pause, reflect, and consider the meaning of the cross in our own lives. The North Creek Choir will lead us in Taizé worship. Together, we will enter a space of quiet devotion as we contemplate the love revealed through Christ's suffering.

Easter Sunday

Sunday, April 5 at 8:30 and 10:00 AM

Everlasting Mercy!

On Easter morning, we gather to remember the miracle of the resurrection and to celebrate the everlasting mercy of God. This is the day we rejoice in the hope that never fades and the love that triumphed over the grave. Whether you've been part of our community for years or are seeking a place to experience the joy of Easter, we would be honored to worship with you. We will hold two identical services at 8:30 and 10:00 AM. 10:00 AM service, which will also be livestreamed. The Nursery and Kid's Sunday School will be offered at the 10 AM service only.

Thank you all for supporting our effort to fund raise for the new Sing! Hymnal. We far exceeded our expectations and our $5,000 goal! God is good! Our order with Crossway will be placed this month and we expect our new hymnals to arrive later this spring. If you still wish to contribute to the fund, please contact the church office. In the coming weeks, The Sing! Hymnal page on the church's website will transform into an information hub with FAQ, resources, and helpful links to aid in exploring this new hymnal.

HOLY WEEK HAPPENINGS

Good Friday's service, Friday, April 5 at 7:30PM, will feature the NCPC Choir leading worship in the style of Taizé. This service will include choral works as well as congregational singing through repeated choruses, reflective readings, and meditative silences. Joining the choir will be flautist Maia Nemes who was featured in last winter's Christmas Concert.

Easter Sunday – April 7 – will once again include the NCPC choir and brass quintet. The brass ensemble is comprised of Inglemoor High School students and alumni! At the conclusion of the service, all are invited to join the NCPC Choir in the loft for the “Hallelujah Chorus” from Handel's Messiah. This unique expression of praise has become an anticipated event for the NCPC Choir, alumni, friends, and family. This invitation is open to all in worship attendance. Sheet music will be provided!

We hope you will attend and draw closer to God through the music of this season.

Spring Day of Renewal

April 25th

9:30am-2:30pm

"But those who wait upon God get fresh strength. They spread their wings and soar like eagles, they run and don't get tired, they walk and don't lag behind."
-Isaiah 40:31

Join us for a refreshing and soul-stirring Spring Day of Renewal, designed exclusively for women seeking spiritual growth and fellowship. Step away from the busyness of life and enter a sacred space filled with worship, prayer, and inspiration.

Both Rev. Denise Easter and Lynette Habegger teach women to find their true identity in Christ, operating in fullness, peace and freedom. Rev. Denise is an ordained minister in the PCUSA and co-founder of Renewal Ministries Northwest. Lynette is a women's Pastor at a church in Nashville, TN and a Certified Life Coach.
