Summer is winding down. So WHY IS IT HEATING UP SO MUCH?!?!?

Seriously, it always seems like right around the time school starts back, summer decides to give us at least one last wallop. Still, I'm glad for the reminder that it's not my call when seasons change. That's our Lord's domain. We just keep our eyes up as we follow Him into the next one.

With that in mind, take a moment and pray for our teachers and students who have or will return to school for the year. College students will be showing up soon, too. Pray for our teachers for steadiness and stamina for another year. Pray for our students to find their school rhythms quickly. Pray for our college students, especially those just beginning their collegiate experience!

Teachers and students at all levels, please, in all sincerity, let us know how we can be praying for you, specifically. Reach out to our staff or pastors. Call a deacon or anyone you know here. We are praying for you this year!

Eyes up,
david
