

Mexico Mission Trip Student Internship 2018

Purpose of Student Internship

Each year during spring break a group of approximately 60 high school students and adult advisors travel to a Mexican border town where, in four days, they build homes for impoverished Mexican families. These 22' x 11' homes are built on a foundation and have two rooms, a door, windows, a tarred roof, and stucco exterior walls to protect the family from outside elements. Often this house is the home a family has been hoping and praying for.

Leading up to the trip, students and adult advisors prepare for the trip through our "Mandatory Mexico Meetings" (MMMs). Games, discussion, prayer, singing and fun make up the content of these MMMs.

This year we'd like to have two Student Interns help plan, run, and facilitate a variety of activities that happen during the MMMs and the trip itself.

Responsibilities

MMMs

- Meet twice with Drew Schulz and Pastor Kurt Heineman to plan games and activities for the 4 MMMs.
- During the MMMs run the games and activities and be a friendly presence to everyone.

Garage Sale

- Help the Garage Sale Chairpersons (Leana and Annette) organize students to work shifts during the week and during the sale

During the Trip

- Hand out the daily awards (Fouts Hammer, and the Soupy)
- Be on the leadership team that makes important decisions
- Select students to pray before meals
- Select students to lead devotionals in the mornings before we leave to work sites
