

JOE T. VEAL

Raised in Milledgeville GA, Joe T. Veal served as a Marine and had a career as a golf course architect, which included more than a decade working for PGA champion Arnold Palmer. Joe was involved in the design and/or construction of more than 25 championship-level golf courses across the world... yet considers his greatest achievement to be living each day as a passionate disciple of Jesus Christ.

But in 1998, Joe's life was riddled with sin and emptiness. His family, his job... his very life... hung in the balance.

Joe was saved after hearing the Gospel, through the person of Jesus Christ, and his life was miraculously transformed. Since 1999, Joe has preached and shared the Gospel, across America and the world, with a unique, down-to-earth style. He has dedicated his life to winning people into the Kingdom of God with every resource he has available.

In 2004, Joe formed the team that began You Turn Ministries, with a focus on southeast Africa. Through You Turn, millions have heard the Gospel, orphans have been rescued through a Lighthouse care program, and key leaders have been trained to sustain a church planting movement.

Married in 1985, Joe and his wife, Liz, have four children and reside in Springboro, OH. They attend Urbancrest where Joe continues to serve as Staff Evangelist. In addition to his other work experience, Joe has served as a Children's Pastor for Urbancrest and as a NAMB church planter.

ERIC PERKINS

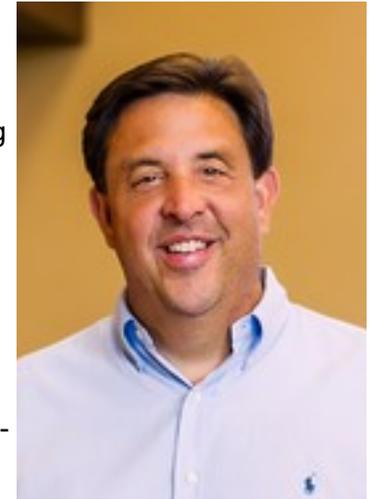

As President of You Turn Ministries, Eric has a heart for people and a strong desire to see them connect with Christ. His desire is to help others discover their spiritual gifts and use them in fulfilling their Great Commission Calling.

A native Texan, Eric grew up in a small town just outside Dallas, graduated from Criswell College and earned his Master of Divinity at New Orleans Theological Seminary.

On March 18, 1989, Eric married his best friend, Lacey, and they have four children — Emily (married to Jason Hasselle), Hannah, Elise and Noah — and three grandchildren — Beau, Tripp and Makenna.

Eric has a passion for missions and believes that God has called every believer to share the Good News of the Gospel wherever they go. Besides churches in Texas, Louisiana and Mississippi, Eric and his family have served with the International Mission Board of the Southern Baptist Convention. Their experience with the IMB was as church planter/missionaries in Uruguay, South American and as the Regional Volunteer Strategist for the South America Region.

Eric loves spending time with his family, traveling, going to the gun range with his son, serving others and going on dates with his wife, Lacey.
