

One week from today, we will gather together at Standing Stone State Park for our second annual Resonate Men's retreat!

In this email, I've included the rough schedule for the weekend, as well and a list of items that you will need to bring with you.

A couple of other details that I want to mention:

First, If you are receiving this message and have not signed up, THERE IS STILL AVAILABLE ROOM. Click here to sign up online right now!

Second, If you have not yet paid the registration fee, please make plans to do that by this Sunday if possible. If you are planning to pay online, go here.

(As a reminder, the registration fee is $80/ adult, and only $20 per child with a paying adult. Pay by cash, check, or if you are using a card/paying online add 3% to cover fees)

We want every man at Resonate to be able to attend this retreat! If for some reason, you are unable to attend due to the registration cost, please let me know by email. We will do our best to cover the costs through a scholarship!

We are going to eat well, have great fireside conversations, enjoy the outdoors, and our affections are going to be stirred for Jesus. Those of you who were with us at last year's retreat know that the Spirit met with us in a mighty way. Some of us are coming into this weekend feeling beat up, some are heart-sick dealing with loss and brokenness, and some of us are just tired.

We want to create space this weekend for light and deep conversation. We want the tenderness of the Father to be pervasive in all that we do together. Beginning today, would you begin praying for an outpouring of the Spirit's power and presence among us?

I'm so excited about our time together. I'm also excited about a "special gift" that we will be giving away (no spoilers!!).

If you have any additional questions, please let me know!

Blessings to each of you,

Shane

PS. If you haven't signed up, why are you still reading this? Go and sign up now! ;)
