Saint Peter's Art Show: "Art that Gives"

In July 1966, members of the St. Catherine's Guild at St. Peter's Episcopal Church in Lewes strung a clothesline across the wall in front of the church and invited local artists to display their works. St. Catherine's was one of several guilds that women of St. Peter's could join, and its members held fundraising events throughout the year, using the proceeds to pay for special church projects. The success of that first art show encouraged the women of St. Peter's to repeat the event in subsequent years — and today, the show is the parish's major outreach activity, involving the entire congregation, with proceeds benefiting many community organizations.

Over the years, the focus has expanded from just paintings to include works in ceramics, jewelry, fiber, glass, wood, metal, and photography, and the show now fills the streets surrounding the historic church as well as the adjacent M&T Bank parking lot. The show takes place on the first Saturday in July.

From its earliest years, the show has featured a raffle of works by participating artists and artisans. A silent auction of works donated by exhibitors is also part of the show.

Since the 1980s, St. Peter's has given all the money raised from exhibitor fees, raffle, and silent auction, to organizations that help people in need in the local area. The Community Resource Center in Rehoboth, a ministry of the Lewes-Rehoboth Association of Congregations, is a major beneficiary of the show, as is Primeros Pasos, an early childhood learning center in Georgetown that serves low income families. Aid is given regardless of race, age, sexual orientation, color, marital status, creed, national origin, disability, or religious affiliation.

The proceeds from the raffle will support the St. Cecilia Music Guild Scholarship program, and the proceeds from concessions sales will support the Little Cupboard food pantry.

It's no wonder that the show's motto is "Art that Gives."

Dear friends,

Welcome to Saint Peter’s 57th annual Art Show, an event that began in 1966 when the Episcopal Church Women had a “Clothesline Art Show.” Artists’ works were pinned to a clothesline that stretched across the front of St. Peter’s Square, along Second Street, from Market to Mulberry Street. Today, it is one of the oldest and finest outdoor shows in the region. Over 100 artists and artisans have been carefully selected. They are excited to join us today to share with you their artistic creations.

All of the proceeds from this year’s Art Show will benefit community organizations helping individuals and families in Sussex County. Please be sure to visit our local merchants along Second Street, who support our efforts in helping others regardless of race, age, sexual orientation, color, marital status, national origin, disability, creed or religious affiliation. A special thanks to M&T Bank for the use of their parking lot for some of our vendors!

If you need assistance at any time, please ask one of our volunteers—they are happy to help! Most of our outside volunteers are wearing a T-shirt emblazoned with “St. Peter’s Art Show.” We especially thank Candy Williams and the Kogler Team Long & Foster Real Estate for their generosity in providing the shirts for our volunteers and Lee Ann Wilkinson of Berkshire Hathaway HomeServices PenFed Realty and the Lewes Senior Center for providing the shuttle bus service.

Thank you for coming out today! We hope you have a wonderful time and find a new artistic treasure for your home. Whenever you are visiting Lewes, you are always welcome to join us for worship! There are NO outsiders in our congregation! We look forward to seeing you next year, on July 6, 2024!

The Rev. Jeffrey A. Ross⁺
51st Rector of St. Peter’s Episcopal Church
