Luke 9:43b-48

1. The sermon title was "Check Your Heart." How have you experienced your heart posture or attitude reflecting something different than the trust in Christ you profess with your words?

2. While the disciples were marveling, Jesus told them that he was going to be delivered into the hands of men. Why might Jesus have taken this opportunity to share the information about his arrest? How is this situation similar to the lesson we learned about “spiritual mountaintops” existing (in part) to prepare us to minister in "valleys?"

3. The Bible says the disciples were afraid to ask Jesus what he meant. Why might they have been afraid? What does their fear reveal about their trust in Jesus?

4. In verse 46, the disciples were arguing among themselves about who was the greatest, but they didn't ask Jesus anything. When have you filled in the blanks about what you thought God would want from you without asking him and waiting for his answer? How did that work out for you?

5. Jesus responds to the disciples' argument by teaching them that he expects his followers to live with humility. What steps have you taken to live more humbly? How has your time spent with the Lord helped you to look more like him in service and love toward others?

6. Jesus's command to come to him as a child can feel difficult to follow. What gives you confidence to trust God's commands even when they feel unnatural?

7. How does this passage teach us that God's definition of greatness differs from the world's definition? How can Christians hope to change the world if we constantly live humbly?
