QUOTES TO INSPIRE

"God's love is the power that moves galaxies and that breathes in our bodies. One way to imagine this relationship between God and the world is with the metaphor of the world as God's body....The world, the universe, is the 'body of God'; all matter, all flesh, all myriad beings, things, and processes that constitute physical reality are in and of God. God is not just spirit, but also body. Hence, God can be thought of in organic terms, as the vast interrelated network of beings that compose our universe. The 'glory' of God, then is not just heavenly, but earthly."

— Sallie McFague
