Apprenticeship

Vigilant Hope's Summer Apprenticeship is an opportunity for youth from the Southside to gain hands-on experience in the various components of Vigilant Hope's work. Apprentices will spend part of their time within Vigilant Hope's social enterprise, Vigilant Hope Roasting, learning the craft coffee process from farm to roasting to serving a cup.

Through this experience, apprentices will develop valuable skills in business management, behind-the-scenes operations, barista training, and customer service, while also being introduced to concepts of financial stewardship and entrepreneurship.

Apprentices will also spend time in the Southside neighborhood, building relationships with neighbors, serving at community events, and helping host spaces that foster listening, connection, and neighborly care. Throughout the apprenticeship, participants will have opportunities to learn how to network in different environments, hear from guest speakers across various industries, and gain exposure to a range of career pathways.

Two weeks of the program will be dedicated to personal development, focusing on reflection around identity, purpose, and growth. During this time, apprentices will engage in personal storytelling, set goals for their future, and identify both their strengths and areas for continued development.
