THE FIVE SOLAS OF THE REFORMATION - 1517 SOLI DEO GLORIA

"God is glorified not only by His glory being seen, but by its being rejoiced in."
-Jonathan Edwards

The doctrine of soli deo gloria - glory to God alone - teaches that all glory is due to God alone and no other. This glory is due Him because from Him and through Him and to Him are all things, including our salvation.

God created us for His glory and saved us for His glory. We of course do not add to His glory, but participate in its fullness, for who could add to an already perfect glory?

This doctrine serves as a nice bookend to the previous four solas as well, since God brings salvation to His people through the work of Christ alone, given to us by grace alone, received to us by faith alone, and promised to us by Scripture alone.

The Lord's presence and power ought to be the desire of every believer. There are times when the Lord seems to have hidden His face from us, and that ought to drive us to prayer, as it did Isaiah.

In the previous chapter the prophet prayed for God to look down from heaven (63:15). Now he prays for God to tear the heavens apart and come down. We should plead with God to remove every impediment to knowing the fullness of His presence. Things will be remarkably different when God appears in His glory and power.

Let us wait upon the Lord, earnestly expecting Him to bless His people, that by faith in the gospel we may see what God “hath prepared for him that waiteth for him” (v. 4).

How does this kind of prayer seek awakening and revival by the Holy Spirit?
How does it ultimately seek nothing less than the return of Christ?

Isaiah 63:15-64:12 ^{ESV}

63:15 Look down from heaven and see, from your holy and beautiful habitation. Where are your zeal and your might? The stirring of your inner parts and your compassion are held back from me.

¹⁶ For you are our Father, though Abraham does not know us, and Israel does not acknowledge us; you, O Lord, are our Father, our Redeemer from of old is your name.

¹⁷ O Lord, why do you make us wander from your ways and harden our heart, so that we fear you not? Return for the sake of your servants, the tribes of your heritage.

¹⁸Your holy people held possession for a little while; our adversaries have trampled down your sanctuary.

¹⁹ We have become like those over whom you have never ruled, like those who are not called by your name.

^{64:1} Oh that you would rend the heavens and come down, that the mountains might quake at your presence—

²as when fire kindles brushwood and the fire causes water to boil— to make your name known to your adversaries, and that the nations might tremble at your presence!

³When you did awesome things that we did not look for, you came down, the mountains quaked at your presence.

⁴From of old no one has heard or perceived by the ear, no eye has seen a God besides you, who acts for those who wait for him.

⁵You meet him who joyfully works righteousness, those who remember you in your ways. Behold, you were angry, and we sinned; in our sins we have been a long time, and shall we be saved?

⁶We have all become like one who is unclean, and all our righteous deeds are like a polluted garment. We all fade like a leaf, and our iniquities, like the wind, take us away.

⁷ There is no one who calls upon your name, who rouses himself to take hold of you; for you have hidden your face from us, and have made us melt in the hand of our iniquities.

⁸ But now, O Lord, you are our Father; we are the clay, and you are our potter; we are all the work of your hand.

⁹Be not so terribly angry, O Lord, and remember not iniquity forever. Behold, please look, we are all your people.

¹⁰Your holy cities have become a wilderness; Zion has become a wilderness, Jerusalem a desolation.

¹¹ Our holy and beautiful house, where our fathers praised you, has been burned by fire, and all our pleasant places have become ruins.

¹²Will you restrain yourself at these things, O Lord? Will you keep silent, and afflict us so terribly?
