

Where might
you be deceived in thinking you
are too good
to humbly
serve the broken?

When was the last time you
tried to restore
someone
caught in sin?
When did you
just condemn?
How can you
change that
pattern?

Where do you
need
forgiveness?
Approach
someone this week and try to make it
right?

Come up with your own
application to
unify people
instead of
dividing them
[as Satan
does]
