TRUNK OR TREAT • FOOD • GAMES • PUNKIN' CHUNKIN' • and MORE!

Fall is here and we're gearing up for our FALL-A-PALOOZA fall fest! Details are still in the works, but this year we'll be combining our community trunk-or-treat with other great fall activities. Our goal is to have at least 40 trunks decorated in our parking lot for kids in our community to trick-or-treat from car to car. We'll also have lots of fun games and great food for an afternoon of family fun! We'd love it if you would decorate a trunk for kids to walk through the parking lot and trick or treat in a safe and family-friendly way. You can decorate your trunk in any theme, as long as it's kid friendly! To register your trunk, please visit ccduncannon.com/reach/fallapalooza or fill out a form at the Welcome Center!

We also need some volunteers for games, food, and more, so if you'd like to help in another way, please let us know! Invite family and friends of all ages to this great community event!

The next chapter begins

Last Sunday, the Cornerstone partners affirmed David Sherwood as our next lead pastor! We are so excited to welcome Dave and his family into the Cornerstone family and we can't wait to see what God has planned in the upcoming months! Dave is expecting to arrive in Duncannon the week of October 2 and his family will be following a few weeks later. Please join us as we welcome the Sherwoods!

Your data on display

By now, most, if not all of you, have heard about the data breach at Equifax, one of three major U.S. credit bureaus. More than five million Pennsylvanians (and 143 million people nationwide) are potentially affected by the data breach. The compromised data that was stolen includes names, Social Security numbers, birth dates, addresses, driver's license numbers, and credit card numbers—all information that you wouldn't want to fall in the wrong hands. People's identities can be stolen, their bank accounts can be drained, and their credit can be used by criminals in distant lands over the course of weeks, months, or even years. Even if you don't conduct financial transactions online, your information may be risk.

The Pennsylvania Department of Banking and Securities advises Pennsylvanians to consider the following steps to check if they are victims of the Equifax data breach:

- Visit equifaxsecurity2017.com to determine if your personal information was compromised, and sign up for credit file monitoring and identity theft protection.
- Consider placing a freeze on your credit, which prevents anyone, including businesses and criminals, from viewing your credit report or opening credit such as a new credit card or loan in your name.
- Set up a fraud alert with the credit reporting agencies, which notify you if someone tries to apply for credit in your name.
- Check credit reports and financial statements regularly for discrepancies to ensure your accounts are only being used by you. You are entitled to a free credit report once a year from all three of the credit bureaus at annualcreditreport.com.
- Change your online passwords.
- If you believe you have been a victim of fraud or identity theft, the Banking and Securities Department urges you to contact the attorney general's Bureau of Consumer Protection at 1-800-441-2555 or scams@attorneygeneral.gov, the Federal Trade Commission's identity theft hotline at 1-877-438-4338, or visit identitytheft.gov.

What Equifax offers

Equifax (1-866-447-7559) is offering free credit file monitoring for one year, and identity theft protection. The offering, called TrustedID Premier, includes monitoring of Equifax, Experian, and TransUnion credit reports; copies of Equifax credit reports; the ability to lock and unlock Equifax credit reports; identity theft insurance; and Internet scanning for Social Security numbers. If you decide to sign up for this service, you'll receive an enrollment date, and will have to return to the TrustedID site on or after that date and follow the "How do I enroll?" instructions. The enrollment period ends November 21.

Placing a credit freeze

On Experian's home page, click on the "Credit Report Assistance" tab to find the credit freeze spot. You may be charged $10 per person to freeze your credit and $10 to unfreeze it. (1-888-397-3842)

On TransUnion's website, click on the "My Free Identity Protection" button, which takes you to "TrueIdentity" and enrolls you. There you can lock your credit files with a click. (1-888-909-8872)

A credit freeze does not affect your credit score. It also does not:

- prevent you from getting your free annual credit report.
- keep you from opening a new account, applying for a job, renting an apartment, or buying insurance. But if you're doing any of these, you'll need to lift the freeze temporarily, either for a specific time or for a specific party, say, a potential landlord or employer. The cost and lead times to lift a freeze vary, so it's best to check with the credit reporting company in advance.
- prevent a thief from making charges to your existing accounts. You still need to monitor all bank, credit card, and insurance statements for fraudulent transactions.
- stop you from receiving prescreened credit offers. If you want to stop getting prescreened offers of credit, call 888-5OPTOUT (1-888-567-8688) or go online. The phone number and website are operated by the nationwide credit reporting companies. You can opt out for five years or permanently. However, some companies send offers that are not based on prescreening, and your federal opt-out right will not stop those kinds of solicitations. Prescreened offers can provide many benefits, especially if you are in the market for a credit card or insurance. You can learn about what's available, compare costs, and find the best product for your needs. Because you are pre-selected to receive the offer, you can be turned down only under limited circumstances. The terms of pre-screened offers also may be more favorable than those that are available to the general public. In fact, some credit card or insurance products may be available only through prescreened offers.

A credit freeze makes it harder for someone to open a new account in your name, but will also require you to take some extra steps the next time you apply for a credit card or cell phone, or any other service that requires a credit check. Certain entities will still have access to your credit reports.

- your report can be released to your existing creditors or to debt collectors acting on their behalf.
- government agencies may have access in response to a court or administrative order, a subpoena, or a search warrant.

A credit freeze makes it harder for someone to open a new account in your name, but will also require you to take some extra steps the next time you apply for a credit card or cell phone, or any other service that requires a credit check. Certain entities will still have access to your credit reports.

- your report can be released to your existing creditors or to debt collectors acting on their behalf.
- government agencies may have access in response to a court or administrative order, a subpoena, or a search warrant.

After receiving your freeze request, each credit reporting company will send you a confirmation letter containing a unique PIN (personal identification number) or password, which you should keep in a safe place. You will need it if you choose to lift the freeze.

In a few states, credit freezes expire after seven years. In the vast majority of states, a freeze remains in place until you ask the credit reporting company to temporarily lift it or remove it altogether. A credit reporting company must lift a freeze no later than three business days after getting your request. The cost to lift a freeze varies by state.

If you opt for a temporary lift because you are applying for credit or a job, and you can find out which credit reporting company the business will contact for your file, you can save some money by lifting the freeze only at that particular company.

Placing a fraud alert

If you decide not to place a credit freeze, consider placing a fraud alert. A credit freeze locks down your credit. A fraud alert allows creditors to get a copy of your credit report as long as they take steps to verify your identity. For example, if you provide a telephone number, the business must call you to verify whether you are the person making the credit request. Fraud alerts may be effective at stopping someone from opening new credit accounts in your name, but they may not prevent the misuse of your existing accounts.

To place a fraud alert on your credit reports, contact the three nationwide credit reporting companies. You will have to provide proof of your identity. A fraud alert is free.

Three types of fraud alerts are available:

- Initial Fraud Alert. If you're concerned about identity theft, but haven't yet become a victim, this fraud alert will protect your credit from unverified access for at least 90 days. You may want to place a fraud alert on your file if your wallet, Social Security card, or other personal, financial, or account information are lost or stolen.
- Extended Fraud Alert. For victims of identity theft, an extended fraud alert will protect your credit for seven years.
- Active Duty Military Alert. For those in the military who want to protect their credit while deployed, this fraud alert lasts for one year.

Avoiding ID theft in general

- Try to file your taxes early—before a scammer can. Tax identity theft happens when someone uses your Social Security number to get a tax refund or a job. Respond right away to letters from the IRS.
- Don't believe anyone who calls and says you'll be arrested unless you pay for taxes or debt—even if they have part or all of your Social Security number, or they say they're from the IRS.
- If a credit card number may have been stolen, contact your bank or credit card company to cancel your card and request a new one. If you have automatic payments, set them up with the new card number.
- Review your transactions regularly. Make sure no one misused your card.

Communion offering

On Sunday, October 8, the Cornerstone family will take communion together. Traditionally, Cornerstone takes an extra benevolence offering at the end of the service that we give back to meet needs in our community and beyond. For the October 8 communion, the special offering will be donated to Samaritan's Purse specifically for Hurricane Relief in Texas, Florida, and beyond. To learn more about what Samaritan's Purse is doing to help hurricane victims, visit samaritanaspurse.org.

Nursery and Toddler rooms

We LOVE our Cornerstone Kids! To keep up with all of the great improvements at Camp Cornerstone (PreK–6th grade), the Nursery and Toddler rooms are getting a facelift! The MEADOW will be a great environment for babies to learn and grow through play, stories, and music. Our toddlers will enjoy learning new songs and Bible stories through interactive lessons in the FROG POND! We encourage parents to check out the rooms and let their kids explore these fun areas, both for babies and toddlers and through elementary school at Camp Cornerstone.

If you'd like to volunteer with our kids, we can ALWAYS use more loving adults to care for our kids! Contact Megan Safko (connect@cccduncannon.com) or call the church office (834-4641) for information!

God is good—all the time!

Going under

We celebrate those who took the step to be baptized on Sunday, September 10 and shared how their faith in God has transformed their lives: Jim and Cindy Dersham, Tianna and Logan Brady, Nicolas Hitesman, and Cody Gerhold.

Friending

Our current sermon series continues in October. Many of us don't realize the importance of the people we choose to surround ourselves with. Our friends determine the quality and direction of our lives. In "Friending," learn how good friends (and bad friends) can impact your feelings, your relationship with God, and your future.

Deaf signing

Jessica Bentley-Sassaman and Gina Geraghty generously offer their services as interpreters for the deaf at our 9am Sunday Celebration. If you need this service, please try to sit in the first row on the right side of the multi-purpose room as Jessica and Gina sign the lyrics to our worship music and the sermons.

Grief is perhaps the most difficult of human emotions to face, though it also has the potential for being the most therapeutic. Grief isn't a bad thing; it's the cost of having loved. If we hadn't loved, if we hadn't cared, we wouldn't grieve. And our lives would have been even emptier.

Operation Christmas Child—a project of Samaritan's Purse, Franklin Graham, president

Jack and June Smith

The time is here for us to start packing those Operation Christmas Child boxes that we have been saving over the last several months. We will be having our Packing Party at the church on Sunday, October 22, starting at 3pm. We will be showing a video that explains more about how OCC is effective all over the world and the impact that it has for many children as they receive gifts and hear about the saving grace of our Lord Jesus. Many adults will also hear the gospel as they are associated with these children. We are very blessed as a church to be able to partner with Samaritan's Purse to reach people all over the world who previously may never have been told about Jesus.

We'd like anyone at Cornerstone who can help to be involved with packing these boxes, as we will have at least 300 and counting that will need to be filled. If you have supplies that you would like to donate for these boxes, please bring them to the church by October 20, or bring them to the Packing Party on October 22.

If you wish to pack your own boxes after this date, bring them to Cornerstone anytime during Drop Off week, November 13-20. The church will be open:

Monday-Friday, November 13-17, 4-8pm

Saturday, November 18, 9am-12noon

Sunday, November 19, 1-4pm

Monday, November 20, 9-11am

Thanks to everyone who has been involved in any way with this life-changing ministry. If you have any questions or comments, please call Jack or June Smith (717-834-4917).

Suggested items to put in the boxes are:

small toys • toothbrushes • combs • note pads • socks • barrettes • pony tail ties • lead and color pencils • soap • washcloths • hand towels • plastic cups • tissues • games • hats • craft items

NO LIQUIDS, CANDY, OR TOOTHPASTE may be packed.

Thank you for any assistance to this vital ministry. For more information, visit samaritanaspurse.org.

COAT DRIVE

October 1 - 29

Collecting NEW or GENTLY USED winter coats in all sizes, warm blankets and sleeping bags

Bring WARM (new or gently used) coats, blankets, and sleeping bags to Cornerstone during the month of October. We are collecting all sizes of winter coats and ask that they be laundered before dropping off. Look for the collection bin in the lobby! Coats will be distributed in early November to those in need in our community and in coordination with Bethesda Mission.

Free weatherization services for Perry County residents

Qualifying Perry County residents can save money and stay warm this winter with free weatherization services by SEDA-Council of Governments (SEDA-COG). These services include energy education, diagnostics and solutions, emergency furnace repair or replacement, and cold weather crisis intervention.

To get the whole picture, SEDA-COG staff reviews home heating bills, energy leaks and heat distribution systems.

Income qualifications for the program range from $23,540 for an individual to $81,780 for a family of eight. Residents also must live in the home year-round to qualify.

Since the inception of the program in 1976, more than 37,000 homes have been weatherized. For more information, call 1-800-332-6701.

The holidays are coming!

Megan Saffko

It's hard to believe that Christmas is right around the corner! Reaching our community during the holidays is at the top of our list. Kicking off with the coat drive in October, we have the opportunity to distribute these coats along with food and meals close to Thanksgiving. We host a Thanksgiving dinner where everyone and anyone is welcome to join the Cornerstone family for a meal that will fill your heart and your belly. This is closely followed by our participation in the Adopt-A-Family program where we provide gifts for families in need in our community, and Operation Christmas Child, where we send gifts to children overseas through Samaritan's Purse. We have increased our involvement with Operation Christmas Child this year as the county collection center for gifts. And finally, our Christmas Eve service has become an event of its own, drawing more than 800 people last year. With a new pastor joining the team and recovery efforts across the country still under way following hurricanes Harvey and Irma, we could easily be adding to the this holiday outreach list.

You may notice that the Drive-Thru Nativity is missing from the list. After many successful years of telling the Christmas story to those that journeyed to our own Bethlehem, Maryann Camacci has stepped down from leading this event. Maryann did a fantastic job (over countless hours) putting teams together for set up, costuming, acting, clean up, and more, and we are so thankful for the time she spent spearheading this.

So where does this leave the Nativity? Leading into last Christmas season, we were aware there are many other churches in the area doing their own versions of the nativity. We were left with the question, is this even still making an impact? The short answer is, we don't know, but without a leader we decided that Cornerstone would take a break from the Nativity this season and use the time to be intentional about our impact through these other events and the additional opportunities that may come our way, and at the same time, evaluate the impact of the Nativity. We know that this has become a holiday tradition for some, so we'd love to hear your thoughts and experiences from the Drive-Thru Nativity. Please email the office (office@cccduncannon.com) to join the conversation.

Two things to remember in life: Take care of your thoughts when you're alone, and take care of your words when you're with people.

How to Be Awesome: A four-week series on wisdom

We all want to be awesome at life. For some of us, being awesome means getting famous, making money, or having power. God's version of living an awesome life, though, is a little different. With God, an awesome life is a life of wisdom. In this four-week series, we'll help teenagers discover that the secret to living an awesome life is making wise choices. It's about choosing the narrow road, following God's lead, surrounding ourselves with wise people, and inviting others to do the same.

Emphasize reconciliation, not resolution. It is unrealistic to expect everyone to agree about everything. Reconciliation focuses on the relationship, while resolution focuses on the problem. When we focus on reconciliation, the problem loses significance and often becomes irrelevant.
