4 Amazing Ways That FCHD Can Help You!

Chandra's Story

Chandra is a hardworking Fulton County resident. She's married with a one year old son. Her family has medical benefits through her employer but like many families, the deductible is high and the coverage is low. She never knew the Health Department could help her. One day, she heard that the Health Department gives immunizations to children. Because of the multiple options available, it made immunizations affordable for her family. Chandra called to make an immunization appointment for her son. While talking with the nurses at the appointment, the ball started rolling. She learned about the Reproductive Health and Wellness Clinic, and its mission to provide affordable birth control. What a relief! She had just been telling her husband, even though they weren't ready for another child, she wasn't sure they could afford her birth control. The help didn't end there! When she came for her birth control appointment, she admitted her struggle to lose weight after the birth of her son. The nurse told her about the Healthy Weight Program. Chandra was beyond excited to learn this program could provide nutrition education and access to a local gym for support. As they talked, Chandra mentioned all the medical appointments she was taking her son to. She explained he'd been newly diagnosed with a heart problem. Their doctor had referred her son to a cardiologist and they were swamped with medical bills. The nurse suggested BCMH or Bureau for Children with Medical Handicaps, and explained a Public Health Nurse could help with care coordination and possibly help with medical expenses that are not covered by her insurance. Chandra sat in amazement at all that was available at the Fulton County Health Department.
