Pro-Life Month...

A 2016 Public Square Rosary Rally...

As part of our Pro-Life actions for the month of October, we will hold a 2016 Public Square Rosary Crusade, praying for our nation next Saturday, Oct. 15, from Noon to 12:30 PM, at the Mary Seat of Wisdom statue in our church. Should a second funeral need to be scheduled on that day, the Rosary will be prayed instead, at the Cornerstone Building on the northeast corner of 94th Avenue and 167th Street from 12 Noon to 12:30 PM. All are welcome.

Seventh Graders and Confirmation Enrollment...

Next Sunday, Oct. 16, at the 10:00 AM Mass, we will enroll all of our Seventh Grade students in the Religious Education program, as well as those who attend the Cardinal Joseph Bernardin School, as they begin a two-year process of preparing to receive the Sacrament of Confirmation. This preparation time is an important time for them as they learn more deeply about the faith, engage in acts of service, and choose a confirmation name honoring a saint whose heroic lives inspire them. As a parish we pray for them on their journey. After the 10:00 AM Mass, there will be “hospitality” in the Church Hall.

The Parish Men’s Club...

This Wednesday, Oct. 12, at 7:00 PM, in the Parish Life Center, our Parish Men’s Club will meet to solve all the problems of the world. Join them this month for an evening of camaraderie.

Our October Count...

Those who are eagle-eyed may have noticed that our Greeters are involved in our Annual census counting all those who are attending Mass in October. The Archdiocese of Chicago has done this for several decades now. Last year St. Elizabeth Seton had an average of 1,926 people attending our weekend Masses. Prior numbers were:

In 2014 = 2,131
In 2013 = 2,336
In 2012 = 2,194
In 2011 = 2.302
In 2010 = 2,443
In 2005 = 3,217
In 2002 = 4,144

The Archdiocese of Chicago overall number had declined 2.3% between 2012-2013, and 2.7% between 2014 and 2015. We are part of an overall trend of fewer people regularly attending Mass. Moreover, as a long settled parish, St. Elizabeth Seton parish families experience “shrinkage” as children leave home for college or young adult lives in other parts of the metropolitan area, and as some family members enter sheltered care living situations or die. In addition, the opening of nearby St. Francis and St. Stephen Churches have affected our attendance numbers as well. When we finish the count at the end of October, I will let you know our new numbers.

Trunk or Treat...

On Saturday, Oct. 29, after the 5:00 PM Mass, St. Elizabeth Seton Parish will host “Trunk or Treat” in our parish parking lot beginning at 6:00 PM. Families are invited to decorate their cars/van/trunks for Halloween and provide “treats” for the trick or treaters who will visit the cars. All families are welcome.

Keep Smiling,
The St. Elizabeth Seton Parish offices will be closed on Monday, Oct. 10, in observance of Columbus Day.

The Abuse Scandal as a Dark Night for the Soul

By Rev. Ronald Rolheiser

For the Church in the Western World, particularly in the United States, the recent sexual abuse scandal is probably the biggest crisis we’ve yet faced, though it’s not so much a crisis of faith as one of credibility.

In effect, this is a “dark night of the soul” and, like most dark nights of the soul, it wounds at a particularly vulnerable spot. It’s easy to be scandalized, especially religiously, when sex is involved.

And if this is a dark night of the soul, and it is, we will learn its lesson and undergo its purification only if we are clear on some things:

A dark night of the soul comes from God.

God doesn’t cause accidents, spread viruses, induce depression, break legs, have people die prematurely, or abuse innocent children. A conspiracy of accidents (brute history, human freedom, and sin) does that. But God speaks through all of this. For the authors of scripture, there are no pure accidents, God’s finger is everything.

If Israel loses a war it’s not because the Assyrians have a superior army. No. She loses because she’s been unfaithful and God is purifying her.

That’s true too in the present situation. Put biblically, it’s not the press that’s causing this scandal. God’s hand is behind this, humbling and purifying us. The real issue is not inflated, anti-clerical press-coverage, but our infidelity and God’s pruning hand.

Contending with a dark night is not a distraction to our ministry, it is our real ministry.

“I was always upset by distractions in my work,” Henri Nouwen once said, “until I realized those distractions were my real work!” That is true too for this scandal. This isn’t a distraction to real ministry, it is the real ministry of the Church.

Carrying this scandal properly is something that the Church is invited to do for the sake of the world. Jesus said, “My flesh is food for the life of the world.” The Church exists for the sake of the world and we must keep that in mind as we face this crisis. What does that mean?

Can we help carry something that doesn’t make us feel good and clean?

Put simply: Right now priests represent less than 1% of the overall problem of sexual abuse, yet they are on the front pages of the newspapers and the issue is very much focused on the church. While this is painful, it can also be fruitful. The fact that priests and the Church are (in a way) being scapegoated is not necessarily a bad thing. If our being scapegoated helps society to bring the issue of sexual abuse and its devastation of the human soul more into the open, then we are precisely offering ourselves as “food for the life of the world”. There are very few things that we are doing as Christian communities today that are more important than helping the world deal with this issue. If the price tag is humiliation and a drain on our resources, so be it. Crucifixions are never easy.

A dark night asks us to “sing a new song”.

Sing to the Lord a new song! But what’s the old song? Jesus specifies this when he says that unless our virtue goes deeper than that of the Scribes and Pharisees (the “old song”) we can’t enter the kingdom of heaven. What was the virtue of the Scribes and Pharisees? Theirs was an ethic of strict justice: an eye for an eye, a tooth for a tooth, give back in kind.

What’s wrong with that?

It’s too easy. Anyone, Jesus says, can live the virtue of strict justice at a certain level. A paraphrase of Jesus might read like this: Anyone can be nice to those who are nice to them, can forgive those who forgive them, and can love those who love them.

Can we love those who hate us?

Can we be gracious to those who curse us?

That’s the litmus test of Christian orthodoxy and it’s what’s being asked of us in this scandal: Can we love, forgive, reach out, and be empathic in a new way? Can we have compassion for both the victim and the perpetrator? Can we have compassion for some of our Church leaders who made mistakes? Can we give of our money when it seems we are paying for someone else’s sin? Can we help carry something that doesn’t make us feel good and clean?

This is a dark night of the soul. Like every dark night it’s meant to stretch the heart. This is always painful and our normal impulse is to do something to end the pain. But it won’t go away until we learn what it’s meant to teach us. And what is that, beyond a new humility?

That there is a terrible pain within the culture today, a soul-devastation caused by sexual abuse, and we, the Church, are being asked, like Christ, to have our flesh be food for the life of the world so that this wound might be opened to healing.

OCTOBER IS RESPECT LIFE MONTH

IT IS ALSO DOMESTIC VIOLENCE AWARENESS MONTH

VIOLENCE AGAINST WOMEN, IN ANY FORM, IS SINFUL
— U.S. CATHOLIC BISHOPS

(see Confronting a Culture of Violence: A Pastoral Message of U.S. Catholic Bishops at www.usccb.org; also Pope John Paul II Encyclical—The Gospel of Life—www.vatican.va)

There are many forms of domestic violence and many relationships included in that term. The abuse not only harms the victim but it has a serious adverse effect on the victim’s family and friends. Too often domestic violence is thought of only between husband and wife, but it goes beyond that. A 2011 survey revealed that college students were frequently physically and sexually assaulted (www.loveisrespect.org). Nearly half of the dating college women (43%) report having experienced violent or abusive dating behavior. More than 22% reported actual physical abuse, sexual abuse or threats of physical violence. Despite these high numbers, it has been determined that only 50% of sexual assaults are actually reported and a large percentage of those who do report the assault refuse to pursue criminal charges, which means it does not show up in the number of physical abuse or sexual abuse in the overall statistics, especially those on college campuses.

The Catholic Church has taken a strong stand against domestic violence, which includes violence in its many forms — both physical and non-physical — and includes violence, whether or not the parties are married, dating or strangers. The Church strongly supports, and urges all of us, to support the victims and their families.

There is a common misunderstanding and/or lack of information concerning the Catholic Church’s position on domestic violence and divorce.

The Bishops begin by stating “violence (against women) is never justified. Violence in any form — physical, sexual, psychological, or verbal—is sinful.” Their focus in the letter is on women because they state 85% of the reported cases are where women are the victims. (Note: In my years of experience as a family law attorney and volunteer at a domestic violence service agency, I think it is closer to 95%). One of the major misunderstandings is that the Catholic Church demands that the abused person must stay in the abusive marriage. That simply is not, and has not been, the teaching of the Catholic Church. This pastoral statement is clear when it states:

“Finally, we emphasize that no person is expected to stay in an abusive marriage. Some abused women believe that Church teaching on the permanence of marriage requires them to stay in an abusive relationship. They may hesitate to seek a separation or divorce. They may fear that they cannot re-marry in the Church. Violence and abuse, not divorce, break up a marriage. We encourage abused persons who have divorced to investigate the possibility of seeking an annulment, which determines that the marriage bond is not valid, can frequently open the door to healing.” — (When I Call for Help…)

Domestic Violence is unacceptable and sinful. The Catholic Church is clear in its support of domestic violence victims. Each of us need to be clear in our opposition in ANY violence, in all forms, against women. Let each us support those who are abused and who are seeking to end the abuse and maybe end the abusive relationship. Each of us can at least be a compassionate listener to those who are abused.

THE DIAPER GAP

The need for diaper banks is huge.
Few people are aware of the "Diaper Gap" that exists in the United States. Needy families cannot purchase disposable diapers with most government assistance like food stamps and WIC. Diapers are classified with cigarettes, alcohol and pet food as disallowed purchases. Cloth diapers are not allowed in day care centers and most families in need do not have their own laundry facilities and commercial facilities do not allow cloth diapers to be washed in their machines.

The consequences of diaper need is astonishing.
America’s babies are being shortchanged. With 5.9 million babies in the U.S. aged three or younger living in poor or low-income families and disposable diapers costing up to $150 per month per baby with no government assistance. The average infant uses up to a dozen diapers a day and a toddler uses around 8. If a family cannot afford diapers, the baby may stay in a soiled diaper all day or the parent might clean out a soiled diaper and reuse it. Babies born into poor or low-income families can spend a day or longer in one diaper, leading to potential health risks.

Most childcare centers, even free & subsidized facilities, will turn away a child who arrives without a day’s supply of disposable diapers. Many parents can not go to work or school if they can’t leave their babies at childcare. Hence, babies live in home environments with more tension, less nurturing and possible abuse. Their chance to develop cognitive abilities and language skills normally is in jeopardy, and frankly, the uncomfortable baby will cry — a lot.

SWADDLE diaper bank fills the gap for partner agencies: Catholic Charities Southwest Cook, The COURAGE Program and Together We Cope.

Please help fill the depository. All sizes are needed.
Please bring donation to the Narthex. Questions? Call Deacon George or Pat Brooks, 708-468-8093.

Women’s Club

HI, I'M S.I.C.K.
Southside Irish Catholic Kathy (Peshak). I was raised in Our Lady of the Ridge Parish in Chicago Ridge. I married Frank Peshak and raised two fine sons (Jamie and Brian) in St. Alexander Parish. We moved to Orland Park and began attending St. Elizabeth Seton Church in 1992. I lost my beloved Frank the following year. I’ve been blessed with six wonderful grandchildren (Jordan, Savanah, Tryston, Jacob, Haley and Gabby). I worked in the travel profession for over 25 years. For the past 15 years, I’ve been employed as a Customer Service Representative with CMI Logistics LLC. In joining St. Elizabeth Seton Women’s Club, I found a Sisterhood of fun-loving, like-minded ladies who have filled a huge void in my life. I’ve developed some deep and lasting relationships.

Please come up and introduce yourself to me one Sunday morning after 10:00 am Mass. I sing Alto in St. Elizabeth Seton’s Adult Choir. You can’t miss me. I’m the “HAT LADY”.

WHAT YOUR KIDS WANT YOU TO KNOW BUT DON’T TELL YOU

Tuesday Oct. 13 from 7-8:30pm
St. John Fischer Parish
10234 S. Washtenaw Ave., Chicago
Presentation in the Church

Roy Petitfils has spent years listening to young people, as a youth minister, an educator, a parent and now as a therapist. He’s heard them share things he knew they weren’t sharing with their friends, other adults, and their teachers. In this dynamic, humorous session. Roy will share what’s really going on inside the minds and hearts of young people. You’ll be surprised by what they most deeply want you to know about them and what they really want and need from you. You’ll walk away with tools and strategies for incorporating this information into the way you parent and minister to teens. To register or for questions please contact Kathy McNicholas at kmnicholas@incarnationcatholic.com or 708-388-4004.

HOPE AND HEALING FOR TODAY’S TEENS

Friday Oct. 14 from 10am-2:30pm
St. Xavier University—Butler Room
3700 W. 103rd St., Chicago

Anxiety, depression, self-injury, sexual orientation, suicidal ideation. These are just a few things ministers, catechists, teachers, parents and others involved in the loves of today’s teens face. It can be daunting to help teens who are dealing with these issues. Many adults think, "I not a psychologist... How can I help these teens?" While there are limits to what non-mental health professionals can do, there is MUCH more you can do than you think. You’ll leave this session with a better understanding of these issues and with a clearer understanding of the critical role you can play. Please bring a bagged lunch. Presenters: Roy Petitfils and Kim McMillan. To register or for questions contact kmnicholas@incarnationcatholic.com or call 708-388-4004.
Every Moses needed assistance in prayer, having his arms held up so they would not tire. Sometimes we need that same kind of help to pray - and sometimes we are called upon to hold up someone else in prayer.

FIRST READING

As long as Moses' hands were uplifted, Joshua and his men had the better part of the battle (Exodus 17:8-13). Moses makes intercession for his people. The Israelites go into battle, and as long as Moses holds up his hands, the Israelites are successful. When he lets his hands fall, the Amalekites were successful. Aaron and Hur assist Moses to hold up his hands. This provides insight into prayer: we should ask others to pray for us. Prayer is an act of trust and love, and asking others to pray with and for us is likewise an act of trust and love.

SECOND READING

Remain faithful; proclaim the word; be persistent whether it is convenient or not (2 Timothy 3:14 - 4:2). The two sources of our faith are Sacred Scripture and Tradition. These are the writings of the Old and New Testament and the teaching of the apostles (today these teachings would be called Tradition) for this is the series of teachings that have been passed down in and through the Church. This passage closes with an exhortation to preach the word of God, whether it is convenient or inconvenient, easy or difficult. Everything that happens to us should be one more opportunity for us to share God's love.

GOSPEL

God speaks of a widow who demands her rights from an evil judge. At first the judge does not give her what she wants, but she insists and insists until he finally gives in to her requests. This means that we must ask for those things that we truly need from God. If we do not receive them immediately, we should continue to ask. Do we change God's mind when we pray? A better way of describing the power of our prayer is that God trusts us so much that He invites us to join Him in the decision-making process. It is not that God decides everything that we do. It is a union of the two (for God has called us to be His friends who assist Him in His work of recreating this world in His image).

Faithful God,

You never cease to love us even when we turn away from you or doubt Your word. Give us the persistence of the widow, the perseverance of Moses, and the inspiration of scripture to patiently persevere and persist in trusting You and Your merciful love.

Amen.

SAINT OF THE WEEK

ST. DENIS AND COMPANIONS (D. 258?)

This martyr and patron of France is regarded as the first bishop of Paris...

His popularity is due to a series of legends, especially those connecting him with the great abbey church of Saint Denis in Paris. He was for a time confused with the writer now called Pseudo-Dionsysius. The best hypothesis contends that Denis was sent to Gaul from Rome in the third century and was beheaded in the persecution under Valerius in 258.

According to one of the legends, after he was martyred on Montmartre (literally, “mountain of martyrs”) in Paris, he carried his head to a village northeast of the city. Saint Genevieve built a basilica over his tomb at the beginning of the sixth century.

COMMENT

Again we have the case of a saint about whom almost nothing is known, yet one whose cult has been a vigorous part of the Church’s history for centuries. We can only conclude that the deep impression the saint made on the people of his day reflected a life of unusual holiness. In all such cases, there are two fundamental facts. A great man gave his life for Christ, and the Church has never forgotten him — a human symbol of God’s eternal mindfulness.

QUOTE

“Martyrdom is part of the Church’s nature since it manifests Christian death in its pure form, as the death of unrestrained faith, which is otherwise hidden in the ambivalence of all human events. Through martyrdom the Church’s holiness, instead of remaining purely subjective, achieves by God’s grace the visible expression it needs. As early as the second century one who accepted death for the sake of Christian faith or Christian morals was looked on and revered as martus (witness). The term is scriptural in that Jesus Christ is the ‘faithful witness’ absolutely (Revelation 1:5; 3:14)” (Karl Rahner, Theological Dictionary).
