Grapple Question:

Do I Have to Like Everybody?

Kids Learn:

God's Command to Love Everyone

Dig Into the Bible:

John 13:34-35; Romans 12:9-21; 1 John 4:19-21

Are you one of those people who always orders the same thing at Chinese restaurants? We're all prone to specific likes and dislikes—even in relationships. There are people we like instantly and those who are bound to make us crazy. The good news is that God hasn't called us to be BFFs (Best Friends Forever) with everyone. Help your kids learn to appreciate even the people who annoy them the most by reminding them that each of us is uniquely created by God.
