Grapple Question:

Are We Really That Different?

Kids Learn:

Uncommon Commonalities

Dig Into the Bible:

Genesis 1:26-27; 2:18-24; Galatians 3:26-28; 1 Timothy 2:8-15

As an adult, you can probably name a dozen differences between men and women—physical characteristics, personality tendencies, ways of handling problems. But your preteen may just be realizing all the differences between boys and girls.

Think about what traits make your daughter special as a female, or what sets your son apart as a male. Maybe she is compassionate and gentle, or he is strong in handling tough situations. Tell your preteen that you've noticed and admire that trait. Remember that both genders are made in God's image and are equally awesome!
