Does your preteen ever say, "But I didn't know it was wrong!" when confronted about something? Excuses, excuses! As a parent, you're trying to teach your child right from wrong...but you're not alone in this difficult task. God provides the Bible and the Holy Spirit to guide your child, too. Even though you can't always physically be there to guide your child's choices, he or she can still learn to make decisions that would please God by paying attention to the prompting of the Holy Spirit. Isn't it great to know you have a parenting helper?
