

ENCOUNTER

NOV 30/20

Welcome to this little page on Encounter! While it is a small page, my desire from it is a very big one – that we would have a fresh encounter with the Holy Spirit – that He would help us to fall in love anew with Jesus Christ – this is His aim.

I've asked myself – how do we position ourselves for a fresh encounter with the Spirit? In personal preparation, I started in July to read through the book of Acts devotionally and instead of reading it as “the Acts of the Apostles” I read it as “the Acts of the Holy Spirit.” I underlined every time His name was mentioned – I watched how He works, what He does in the church and how He makes Jesus known to the world. Over the next six weeks I want to invite you onto this same journey. The end date for this challenge is January 17, when I am planning to host the first of three evenings of conversation and prayer around the Spirit filled life.

Most days I will post something on this page for you to think about or pray over. I'm learning this online platform, but I will include songs and pictures to elaborate on the theme of the day. If you go back to the webpage, you will be able to click on the link shown on the box to a wonderful song that we sang yesterday in service...

So we will see you tomorrow!
