Like the Tale of Two Cities, the biblical story of redemption revolves around two key locations. The first location was in the shadow of the tree of the knowledge of good and evil in the Garden of Eden which Adam and Eve fell into. The second location was outside of Jerusalem where Christ made an atonement for sin on a tree shaped like a cross. These events changed the course of human history more than any other. They also serve as focal points for studying the twin doctrines of sin and salvation.

Objectives

1. To help believers gain a biblical view of the world, including their nature as created but sinful beings, and God's plan to provide redemption.
2. To support believers in their study of humanity's great problem and God's great solution – sin and salvation.
3. To support Northside's overall discipleship and spiritual formation strategy of engaging in worship, growing in groups, and serving in ministry.

Good theology is essential for good discipleship and spiritual formation.
