

Questions about winter weather and school closings?

Check out these places for all the info!

Winter weather is quickly on its way! If you ever have questions about school closings due to weather, these are the best places to check:

- The Our Redeemer's Christian School Facebook Page will show updated cancellations or delays.
- The Our Redeemer's Christmas School website will show updated cancellations or delays as well.
- You can listen to KXMC and KMOT; we will be included in the listing of any schools closed or delayed.
- Another great option is to go to our school's website, scroll down to 'Quick Links' and sign up to receive text notifications on your phone, which will send you any weather-related changes automatically.
- Just a helpful note: if the rest of our K-12 school is cancelled, preschool will be also, even if it is not listed specifically. A "delayed start" will mean no morning preschool, but the afternoon session WILL still meet.

And please always know: if our preschool is still open but the weather and roads are not something you are comfortable going out in, there is no pressure for your child to come in that day. We want everyone safe and comfortable, so we always understand if your family makes that choice. 😊

Hope this is helpful! Stay warm and safe this winter!
