

Welcome to Ms. Jennifer's Monday/Wednesday/Friday class at KUCI!

I am so thankful to partner with you in teaching your kids about God, His world, and how we live in it. If you are familiar with KUCI, you'll notice that things are a little different this year. Lots of handwashing, assigned seating, temperature checks, and masks are in our future. But, with all these changes come lots of opportunities too – to learn self-control, how to be a team player, and the value of persevering through adversity.

During these uncertain times, I hope to provide your child with a sense of stability, safety, fun, and a deep understanding that they are loved. By the end of the school year, your child will have grown and changed in so many new and exciting ways and I can't wait to begin that journey with them.
