

PROFESSIONAL DISCLOSURE STATEMENT FOR EMILY HOSSLER

This statement is supplied for your information and protection. It provides information regarding my approach to counseling, education, training and credentials, your rights as a client, and my fees.

APPROACH TO COUNSELING: I believe there is tremendous potential for personal exploration and growth within each individual. My role as a counselor is to assist those individuals, couples, families, and groups that are motivated to change at least one aspect of their thoughts, feelings, or behaviors. As an intern counselor, it is my endeavor to utilize various approaches and techniques in order to best serve the needs of the client. I believe that in order for progress to be made in therapy, one must find a sense of meaning and purpose for their lives, as well as find practical strategies and skills for working through immediate life circumstances. In addition, for therapy to be beneficial, it is important for the client and counselor to agree upon and mutually commit to a general course of action, regardless of the particular approach or technique.

Therapy generally consists of three, possibly four, "phases." Phase one will primarily consist of listening to and understanding the client's (or clients') current situation, problem, pain, crisis, or dilemma. Phase two focuses upon the isolation and further exploration of a particular issue (or two) that is most troubling to the client. Phase three involves defining and implementing new, or improved, patterns and ways of thinking, feeling, and/or behaving regarding that issue. Phase four is the maintenance and adjustment of those new patterns as the client works through and overcomes the potential difficulties and setbacks of living out such patterns.

Sessions between a counselor and client may be very intimate emotionally and psychologically. Client and counselor understand that the relationship will remain on a professional level rather than a personal one. Contact will be limited to the paid sessions in the office or over the phone. The client and counselor shall not engage in physical contact, socialize, give gifts to each other, nor establish any relationship other than the stated counseling relationship. Counseling sessions focus exclusively on client concerns and all interactions will be solely for the client's benefit.

I practice under the code of ethics established by the American Counseling Association and by the American Association of Christian Counselors; and by the American Counseling Association.

CLIENT RIGHTS: As a client, you are rightfully entitled

- To expect that the staff has met the minimal qualifications of training and experience required by state law;
- To examine public records maintained by the State and to have the State confirm credentials of staff;
- To obtain a copy of the Code of Ethics, Oregon Revised Statutes (ORS), or Washington Administrative Code (WAC);
- To report complaints to the proper authorities (i.e. WA State Department of Health; American Counseling Association; American Association of Christian Counselors, etc.);
- To be free from being the object of discrimination on the basis of race, religion, gender, or other unlawful category while receiving these services;
- To obtain permission to view your file, by way of written request stating reason(s) to the therapist
- To be assured of privacy and confidentiality while receiving services as defined by rule and law, including the exceptions to confidentiality of information obtained in the course of services that include the following:
  - Reporting suspected abuse of a child, developmentally disabled person, or a dependent adult;
  - Reporting imminent danger to client or others, including (but not limited to) suicidal behavior or when a client is HIV positive and is unwilling to inform individuals with whom he/she is intimately involved;
  - Reporting information required in court proceedings, or by client's insurance company, or other relevant agencies;
  - Student consultation or supervision;

- o Defending claims brought by client against therapist;
- o Client has signed a release of information authorizing said disclosure.

Therapy is understood to be a choice made by the client, among available options. Options include other centers, therapies, support groups, self-help resources, and other modes of treatment. Medical treatment may also be another viable option. The client may choose not to seek treatment at this time. If therapy is chosen, client's symptoms may worsen before improving, fail to improve, or continue to worsen. Some clients need only a few sessions to achieve their goals, while others may require months or even years of counseling. The client has the right to terminate at any time; however, it is understood that premature termination may result in the return or worsening of the initial symptoms or problems.

Clients are encouraged to talk with the counselor directly if dissatisfied with services received, desirous of a second opinion or referral, or if intending to discontinue appointments.

EDUCATION: As an Intern Counselor, I am currently working towards a Master's Degree in Counseling from Multnomah University. I also hold a Bachelor of Arts in Professional Writing from Taylor University.

SUPERVISION: As an Intern Counselor, I am actively being supervised by Breanna Jeffries, LMHC. As such, there may be times that Breanna Jeffries may participate in sessions directly or be involved in giving me professional direction or guidance in between sessions. Breanna Jeffries may be contacted directly at 503-928-6510.

VIDEO TAPING: For the purpose of supervisory review, I may request that a session be recorded. I will provide an additional disclosure statement consent form for your signature during intake. If this is something that you are unwilling to consent to, or otherwise feel uncomfortable with, please let me know during the intake process.

FEES: Group fees are $15-$35 per participant each 90-minute session, depending on group size, topic, and if necessary, financial difficulty. Group intakes are typically $50, unless otherwise mentioned. My fees for individual therapy are based upon a sliding scale for the amount of time spent or reserved, at the rate of $10 to $40 per session. Sessions are typically 50 minutes long, except initial "intake" sessions and some couples and family sessions, which are 75 minutes long and billed at 1.5 times the session amount. Rates and payment arrangements will be determined at the time of scheduling.

CANCELLATION POLICY: Clients are expected to contact the counselor at least 24 hours in advance to cancel or reschedule an appointment. Full fees may be charged for missed sessions.

EMERGENCY SERVICES: If in need of emergency services, the client should call a crisis line in Clackamas County Crisis Line at 503-655-8585 or the National Suicide Prevention LifeLine at 1-800-273-TALK or call 911.
