

Resources for Teaching Your Children Biblical Financial Principles

Money Matters for Kids by Lauree Burkett & Christie Bowler

This book was written in 2001, but all the principles still apply today. Thoughtful devotionals, lessons, games and teaching points provide a biblical framework for teaching children important financial lessons based on God's word. (There's also a Money Matters for Teens).

The Secret of Handling Money God's Way by Howard and Bev Dayton (This is the resource that was listed in the Faith at Home curriculum. It wasn't available through the NC library system, but copies can be purchased at Thriftbooks.com.)
