

Training Christian leaders around the world

Training Christian leaders for the Kingdom

Things are moving!

The last two months have been very significant in our ministry. What we have prayed for years, and planned for, is finally happening. For this we are grateful to the Lord and to you. Please rejoice with us as you read our update.

The senior leaders of ProMETA, since the beginning, held the commitment to train a generation of Latin American leaders who would eventually assume the responsibility of taking ProMETA into the future. With this in mind, we prayed and kept looking for the best of our students to whom to pass on the baton. The time for that to happen has come, and early this month we appointed Mr. Samuel Marcano as the new Academic Dean.

Samuel, a Venezuelan pastor and ProMETA grad, is coming to this position with a rich experience in church ministries and theological education. To his training in Theology and Applied Linguistics, Samuel adds a vast experience in Christian organizational leadership.

Currently Samuel also serves ProMETA as a teacher and mentor in different courses.

Ana Beatriz, a ProMETA grad who serves in our Department of Learning Systems, is in the picture with her husband Daniel, and their daughter Elizabeth. Apart from leading the ministry to the deaf community in their local church, they will now lead a church planting project in one of the suburbs of Guatemala.

Praises

1. Becky is recuperating quite well of her surgery. Our team in Costa Rica supported us in many loving ways.
2. After 5 weeks in Costa Rica, we came back to Minneapolis where we are trying to catch up with many responsibilities.

Prayer Requests

1. For good health and energy as we prepare for a busy end of the year, with many trips and ministry opportunities.
2. For our students, that they would have the energy and enthusiasm to finish the current school term.
3. For our financial support, that we will be able to meet our budget.
