MITS BIT'S: We've reached the first day of summer!

Today is the "longest" day of the year. The longest amount of daylight happens, every year, on June 21. From now until December 21, daylight will get shorter and shorter. Then it will turn around again!

It's really interesting how God has given us this seasonal order of things, isn't it? At the very beginning of all things, God created an order to all things. From days, to weeks, to years. Everything depends on that order. Weather patterns are dictated by the change of the earth's rotation and path around the sun. Flora and fauna depend on the weather patterns. Humans interact with plants and animals and weather patterns as we act as the world's stewards. The cycle of the longest and shortest days are all a part of the Lord's great plan for creation. And we get to witness it every day and every year! God is good!

CUSTODIAN: Council is looking for someone to fill in as Custodian while Jamie is on maternity leave beginning at the end of July. For more details, please speak with Wayne Vandendool or email the office.
