

Suggested Resources for Mentoring Relationships

A Place of Quiet Rest - Nancy DeMoss

Perfect for helping to establish a quiet time. Very basic and classic. For a new Christian or not so new Christian asking "Where do I start?" – this is the place.

Choosing Gratitude – Nancy DeMoss

Book with 30 day devotional included. I have returned to this more than once on my own and with my mentor. Major attitude adjustments will occur!

Ruth – Kelly Mintor

Unique Bible Study format includes website helps and recipes. This one is highly recommended by Sue Weber.

Living God's Word – Waylon Moore

I cannot recommend this highly or often enough. Solid, Biblical and Godly instruction. Includes helps in how to study, how to memorize, and how to witness to your neighbors.

The Frazzled Female – Cindi Wood

This used to be a study but I think it's reformatted now as a book/journal. The title says it all, don't you think?

Lord, I Want to Know You – Kay Arthur

A daily devotional (42 days) study on the names of God. Life changing sounds dramatic but it's true.

A Praying Life – Paul Miller

Hands down, one of the best books I've ever read on prayer. It's honest, practical and powerful.

Trusting God – Jerry Bridges

The subtitle of this book is "Even When Life Hurts". I keep this book within reach at all times. It's invaluable to me.

Satisfy My Thirsty Soul – Linda Dillow

A 12 week devotional study that focuses on cultivating a lifestyle of worship.
