June 2025 Voice

June is another one of those times of transition. Students are out of school for the summer. Schedules change. I have to get our evaporation cooler back up and running as the temperatures climb. Summer vacation plans become reality. Work in our gardens gears up. In the church many of our ministries slow down giving us time to catch our breath, focus on new opportunities, and renew ourselves in Christ.

In worship we will begin the month with a message from Lisa Van Wormer. Then on June 8 we celebrate Pentecost when the Holy Spirit descended on the disciples 50 days after Jesus' resurrection. For the remainder of the month we seek to expand and deepen our spiritual practices by considering the ways we are called to faithfully inhabit our physical places. Through the end of June and into the beginning of July we will engage six practices that help us connect the food we eat, care of people and places, and our faith. Each week in worship we will learn about one practice of food, faith, and place.

I look forward to seeing you in worship this month. Blessings,

Pastor Josh

June Free Resource

Men, your families, your workplaces, your communities need you.

Like so many positive qualities, courage is a choice. This new book in the popular 3-Minute Devotions line will give you the biblical basis you need to Choose Courage.

Our world deals in fear, but “the Spirit God gave us does not make us timid” (2 Timothy 1:7). Author David Sanford provides 180 brief devotions that encourage you to live a powerful, loving, self-disciplined—in a word, bold—life before God, your family, your coworkers, and your community.

Simple and brief, yet profound and long-lasting, 3-Minute Devotions for Men: Choose Courage will guide men of all ages into the kind of life that leaves a legacy.

Exciting opportunity to use your creativity to connect with God

The cover of the May-June Upper room shows artwork entitled Ruth and Naomi’s Journey. On the inner page, there are a series of prompts and reflection questions about the image. This is the practice of Visio Divina which invites us to encounter the Divine through prayerful consideration of and interaction with an image.

While one can sign up online to receive Sight Psalms from the Upper room, wouldn’t it be exciting to create our own collection of images? CUMC can boast of many talented artists and photographers, as well as countless others who enjoy capturing special photos of the beauty and wonder of God’s creation.

The FUEL committee is inviting anyone who is interested to submit a photo which we will compile into a collection. Photos may occasionally be used in worship but will also be used for an upcoming prayer vigil.

If you have a specific scripture that you would like to include with your photo, please do.

Otherwise, the FUEL committee will discern what to use.

Please email all submissions to spiritualgrowth@community-umc.net.

For questions or suggestions, contact Andrea Nelson at: aen7@hotmail.com.

How do we live faithfully in times of social and political crises? What does it mean to live together as the church, especially in times of turmoil? How do we respond to evil? Join us as we explore these issues and more in The Rise of Bonhoeffer. This summer Pastor Josh will lead the adult Sunday school class as we immerse ourselves in the life and theology of Dietrich Bonhoeffer, a German pastor, professor, and Nazi resister. During our class sessions, we will watch and discuss conversations between Bonhoeffer scholars. The class will also include the opportunity to listen to podcasts and read some of Bonhoeffer’s works outside of class. Class starts June 8 at 10:45 am in the Upper room. All are invited to join us. The outline for the class and links to videos and suggested reading prior to sessions will be available by email, so please let the FUEL committee know if you plan to participate at spiritualgrowth@community-umc.net so that you have access to the material.
