"Like light through a prism, the glory of God reflects through the multi-faceted life of each and every human being, creating a picture of the divine that is as varied and as beautiful as there are colors in existence." - Rev.

Laura Wright Pittman

WE GATHER TO WORSHIP GOD

CALL TO WORSHIP

One: In the beginning, God breathed life into our lungs;

ALL: Not for silence, but for courage. Not for passivity, but for radical witness. A voice echoing high into the mountains and felt even in the depths of the sea.

One: God's Spirit dwells within us, in our bodies, in our voices, in every choice we make.

ALL: We are not powerless. We are called. We are sent.

One: So come, bringing your whole selves: your grief and your fire, your questions and your vision. We are the ones we have been waiting for.

ALL: For Christ has already come among us, and still calls us forward. Love does not wait.

One: So we will move, we will follow, we will become.

ALL: Let us worship the God who calls us into life, into action, into love.

*HYMN 15 “All Creatures of Our God and King”

LASST UNS ERFREUEN

CALL TO CONFESSION

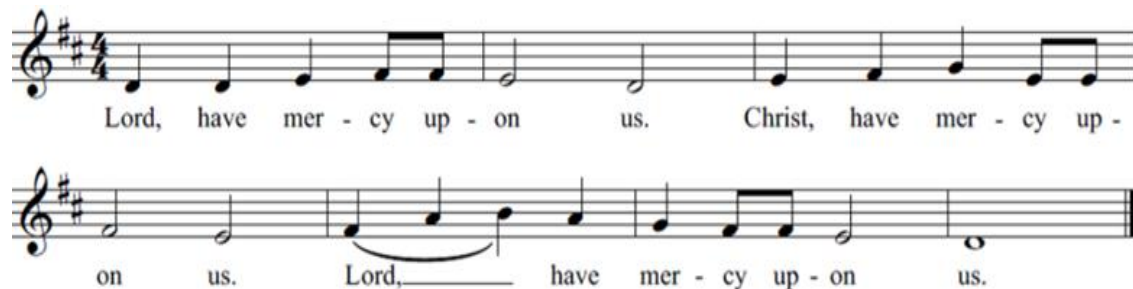

PRAYER OF CONFESSION

God who breathes us out of dust, we so often live as though we have forgotten who we are. We spurn the vision of abundance that invites us to flourish. And still, the Creator who knows us deeply calls us good and invites us to play and grow among the delights of creation. We convince ourselves that surely, belovedness is not a fruit we were meant to enjoy. And still, the Liberator draws our sacred imagination into a world where we are loved in the wholeness of who we are and who we are becoming. We cling to the brittle and lifeless bramble that suffocates the space between us. And still, the Spirit's whisper, wild and gentle and intimate and ferocious, calls us to one another and to ourselves. O, God, who is good and who is good to us, forgive us. Forgive us when you call us to follow and, instead, we wait. We wait because trust is so hard. We wait because our pain, our fear, our rage, our grief hold us back. We wait because we hope that another might stand in the breach. We wait because we do not realize that we are the ones you are calling. We do not realize that we are the ones we have been waiting for.

(Silent Prayer)

KYRIE ELEISON

Lord, have mer - cy up - on us. Christ, have mer - cy up - on us. Lord, have mer - cy up - on us.

The image shows two staves of musical notation in G major (one sharp) and 4/4 time. The first staff contains the lyrics 'Lord, have mer - cy up - on us. Christ, have mer - cy up -'. The second staff continues with 'on us. Lord, have mer - cy up - on us.' The melody is simple and hymn-like, with a final cadence at the end of the second staff.

ASSURANCE OF PARDON

THE PEACE

GLORIA PATRI (Hymn #581)

Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, and to the Holy Ghost;

As it was in the beginning, is now, and ever shall be, world without end.

Amen. Amen.

AFFIRMATION OF FAITH (The Apostles' Creed)

I believe in God the Father Almighty, Maker of heaven and earth.

And in Jesus Christ his only Son our Lord; who was conceived by the Holy Ghost, born of the Virgin Mary, suffered under Pontius Pilate, was crucified, dead, and buried; he descended into hell; the third day he rose again from the dead; he ascended into heaven, and sitteth on the right hand of God the Father Almighty; from thence he shall come to judge the quick and the dead.

I believe in the Holy Ghost; the holy catholic* Church; the communion of saints; the forgiveness of sins; the resurrection of the body; and the life everlasting. Amen.

(*in this context, the word "catholic" means "universal")

For thine is the kingdom, and the power, and the glory, forever. Amen.

BREAKING OF THE BREAD AND POURING OF THE WINE

God is present in this sacrament in ways that remain a mystery to us. In this sacrament God connects us to one another beyond our understanding, location and time.

Communion of the People: For in-person worshippers: The outer ring is wine (red). All the inner rings are white grape juice (gluten free). Inside the pouch marked “Gluten Free” are gluten free crackers.

For remote worshippers: Use your own cup and bread.*

Take and eat the bread as it is passed, symbolizing your personal need for God’s mercy. Hold the cup until all have received it, and then drink together, symbolizing our unity in the body of Christ.

PRAYER OF CHRISTIAN UNITY

Loving and welcoming God, we give thanks for this time together, for this shared table, and for the reminder that each of us is deeply loved and created in your image with purpose. We give thanks for the gifts, voices, and lives of our people. Strengthen us to live as your people seeking justice, loving kindness, and walking humbly with you. Help us to continue to build communities where all are welcomed, valued, and able to live truthfully and without fear. Send us now into the world renewed by your Spirit, nourished for the work of compassion, reconciliation, and hope. Amen.

“We Are the Ones We’ve Been Waiting For”

This phrase comes to us through a 1978 poem by June Jordan. Much of the liturgy used in this service draws on a poem by June Jordan that ends with the famous line, “We are the ones we’ve been waiting for.” As a Black bisexual woman who refused to be shamed for her race or sexuality, who was never afraid of pissing off people in power, and who loved fiercely and pursued solidarity between oppressed peoples across the world, we honor June Jordan as one of our queer ancestors. Jordan wrote the text we draw on, “Poem for South African Women,” to commemorate the 40,000 women and children who engaged in a risky act of protest against apartheid in 1956. As individuals, none of them had political power. United, they formed what the poem describes as “a moving force irreversible as light years traveling to the open eye.” Truly, they were the ones they had been waiting for.
