God was reconciling the world to Himself in Christ and entrusting to us the message of reconciliation.

Dios ha reconciliado consigo al mundo, por medio de Cristo, y nos ha encomendado a nosotros el mensaje de la reconciliación.

W Chrystusie Bóg pojednał świat z sobą, nam zaś przekazał słowo jednania.

Dear Brothers and Sisters in Christ,

Why Do We Celebrate Labor Day?

Labor Day, an annual celebration of workers and their achievements, originated during one of American labor history's most dismal chapters.

In the late 1800's, at the height of the Industrial Revolution in the United States, the average American worked 12-hour days and seven-day weeks in order to have a basic living. Despite restrictions in some states, children as young as 5 or 6 toiled in mills, factories and mines across the country, earning a fraction of their adult counterparts' wages.

People of all ages, particularly the very poor and recent immigrants, often faced extremely unsafe working conditions, with insufficient access to fresh air, sanitary facilities and breaks.

As manufacturing increasingly supplanted agriculture as the wellspring of American employment, labor unions, which had first appeared in the late 18th century, grew more prominent and vocal. They began organizing strikes and rallies to protest poor conditions and compel employers to renegotiate hours and pay.Many of these events turned violent during this period, including the infamous Haymarket Riot of 1886, in which several Chicago policemen and workers were killed.

Others gave rise to longstanding traditions: On September 5, 1882, 10,000 workers took unpaid time off to march from City Hall to Union Square in New York City, holding the first Labor Day parade in U.S. history.

The idea of a "workingmen's holiday," celebrated on the first Monday in September, caught on in other industrial centers across the country, and many states passed legislation recognizing it. Congress would not legalize the holiday until 12 years later, when a watershed moment in American labor history brought workers' rights squarely into the public's view. On May 11, 1894, employees of the Pullman Palace Car Company in Chicago went on strike to protest wage cuts and the firing of union representatives.

Who Created Labor Day?

In the wake of this massive unrest and in an attempt to repair ties with American workers, Congress passed an act making Labor Day a legal holiday in the District of Columbia and the territories. On June 28, 1894, President Grover Cleveland signed it into law. More than a century later, the true founder of Labor Day has yet to be identified.

May God Bless You,
Rev. William Lego, OSA

Estimados Hermanos/as en Cristo,

¿Por qué celebramos el Día del Trabajo?

Día del Trabajo, una celebración anual de los trabajadores y sus logros, se originó durante uno de los capítulos más tristes de la historia laboral estadounidense.

A fines del siglo XIX, en el apogeo de la Revolución Industrial en los Estados Unidos, el estadounidense promedio trabajaba 12 horas al día y siete días a la semana para ganarse la vida a duras penas. A pesar de las restricciones en algunos estados, los niños de 5 o 6 años trabajaban en molinos, fábricas y minas en todo el país, ganando una fracción del salario de sus contrapartes adultos.

Las personas de todas las edades, en particular los muy pobres y los inmigrantes recientes, a menudo se enfrentan a condiciones de trabajo extremadamente inseguras, con acceso insuficiente a aire fresco, instalaciones sanitarias y descansos.

A medida que la manufactura suplantó cada vez más a la agricultura como fuente del empleo estadounidense, los sindicatos, que habían aparecido por primera vez a fines del siglo XVIII, se hicieron más prominentes y vocales. Comenzaron a organizar huelgas y manifestaciones para protestar por las malas condiciones y obligar a los empleadores a renegociar las horas y el pago.

Muchos de estos eventos se volvieron violentos durante este período, incluido el infame Haymarket Riot de 1886, en el que murieron varios policías y trabajadores de Chicago. Otros dieron lugar a tradiciones de larga data: el 5 de septiembre de 1882, 10,000 trabajadores tomaron tiempo libre no remunerado para marchar desde el Ayuntamiento hasta Union Square en la ciudad de Nueva York, celebrando el primer desfile del Día del Trabajo en la historia de Estados Unidos.

La idea de una "fiesta de los trabajadores", celebrada el primer lunes de septiembre, se popularizó en otros centros industriales de todo el país, y muchos estados aprobaron leyes que la reconocen. El Congreso no legalizaría la festividad hasta 12 años después, cuando un momento decisivo en la historia laboral estadounidense puso los derechos de los trabajadores directamente a la vista del público. El 11 de mayo de 1894, los empleados de Pullman Palace Car Company en Chicago se declararon en huelga para protestar contra los recortes salariales y el despido de representantes sindicales.

¿Quién creó el Día del Trabajo?

A raíz de este malestar masivo y en un intento por reparar los lazos con los trabajadores estadounidenses, el Congreso aprobó una ley que convierte el Día del Trabajo en un feriado legal en el Distrito de Columbia y los territorios. El 28 de junio de 1894, el presidente Grover Cleveland lo convirtió en ley. Más de un siglo después, aún no se ha identificado al verdadero fundador del Día del Trabajo.

Que Dios te bendiga

Drodzy Bracia i Siostry w Chrystusie

Dlaczego obchodzimy Święto Pracy?

Święto Pracy, coroczne święto pracowników i ich osiągnięć, powstał w jednym z najbardziej ponurych rozdziałów amerykańskiej historii pracy.

Pod koniec XIX wieku, w szczytowym momencie rewolucji przemysłowej w Stanach Zjednoczonych, przeciętny Amerykanin pracował po 12 godzin na dobę i 7 dni w tygodniu, aby utrzymać podstawowe życie. Pomimo ograniczeń w niektórych stanach, dzieci w wieku 5 lub 6 lat pracowały w młynach, fabrykach i kopalniach w całym kraju, zarabiając ułamek zarobków swoich dorosłych kolegów.

Ludzie w każdym wieku, zwłaszcza bardzo biedni i niedawni imigranci, często mieli do czynienia z wyjątkowo niebezpiecznymi warunkami pracy, z niewystarczającym dostępem do świeżego powietrza, urządzeń sanitarnych i przerw.

W miarę jak produkcja coraz bardziej wypierała rolnictwo jako źródło amerykańskiego zatrudnienia, związki zawodowe, które pojawiły się po raz pierwszy pod koniec XVIII wieku, stały się bardziej widoczne i głośne. Zaczęli organizować strajki i wiece, by zaprotestować przeciwko złym warunkom i zmusić pracodawców do renegocjacji godzin pracy i wynagrodzenia.

Wiele z tych wydarzeń stało się brutalnych w tym okresie, w tym niesławne zamieszki na Haymarket z 1886 r., w których zginęło kilku policjantów i robotników z Chicago. Inne dały początek długoletnim tradycjom: 5 września 1882 r. 10 000 robotników wzięło bezpłatny urlop, by przemaszerować z ratusza na Union Square w Nowym Jorku, organizując pierwszą w historii USA paradę z okazji Święta Pracy.

Idea „święta robotników", obchodzonego w pierwszy poniedziałek września, została przyjęta w innych ośrodkach przemysłowych w całym kraju, a wiele stanów uchwaliło prawo, które ją uznawało. Kongres nie zalegalizowałby tego święta dopiero 12 lat później, kiedy przełomowy moment w amerykańskiej historii pracy uwidocznił prawa pracownicze bezpośrednio w opinii publicznej. 11 maja 1894 r. pracownicy firmy Pullman Palace Car Company w Chicago zastrajkowali przeciwko cięciom płac i zwolnieniu przedstawicieli związków.

Kto stworzył Święto Pracy?

W następstwie tych masowych niepokojów i próbując naprawić więzi z amerykańskimi robotnikami, Kongres uchwalił ustawę czyniącą Święto Pracy legalnym świętem w Dystrykcie Kolumbii i na terytoriach. 28 czerwca 1894 r. prezydent Grover Cleveland podpisał ją jako ustawę. Ponad sto lat później prawdziwy założyciel Święta Pracy nie został jeszcze zidentyfikowany.

Niech Bóg Ci błogosławi,
Rev. William Lego, OSA

Parish Mission Statement

We Believe that God is Love, and when we live in love we live in God and God lives in us! Therefore we, the Parish Family of Saint Turibius, dedicate ourselves to living out Christ's Great Commandment: we will love the Lord our God with all our heart, with all our soul, with all our mind, and with all our strength, and we will show our love for God by the way we love and care for one another. To this end, we will respond to our baptismal call, strengthened by the life, death and resurrection of Jesus Christ and empowered by the Holy Spirit. As a Family of Faith that has an Attitude of Gratitude for the gifts God has given to us, we will share our time, our talent and our treasure with each other. We welcome into our parish family all people, because we believe that together we are the Body of Christ and together we can bring the love, peace, forgiveness, healing, and joy of Christ into our community in ways we never could have if we were to remain apart. May all who meet us, who worship with us, who work and play with us, know we are Christians by our love!
