

Cara Walsh

As the Director of Restorative Justice, Cara has been working to support the development, implementation, and delivery of restorative justice principles and practices throughout Jackson and Josephine Counties since 2010. Working for Resolve Center for Dispute Resolution and Restorative Justice, she provides training, consultation, coaching, and service delivery in partnership and collaboration with juvenile justice, local schools, youth corrections, and community groups. With an undergraduate degree in Interdisciplinary Health Services and a graduate degree in Rites of Passage and Adolescent Development, the root of her professional and educational experience is grounded in her passion for creating and facilitating integrative opportunities and experiences for community engagement, empowerment, healing and transformation.
