A Call for Fasting & Prayer

In our lives, as we live out our lives as Christ followers, there are many spiritual disciplines we engage in. There are inward, outward and corporate disciplines described in the Bible and listed and expounded on by Richard Foster in his book, "Celebration of Discipline." Disciplines in and of themselves do nothing for us, but they can get us to a place where God can bless us. They are a means of God's grace. The four inward disciplines he listed are: meditation, prayer, fasting and study. Two of these we engage in more frequently than the other two. We do pray and we do study the Bible. But as the Spirit leads you, the other two can also be beneficial.

In light of that the leaders of the Covenant Brethren Church are calling on all CBC churches to set aside November 19 as a day "for fasting and prayer, focusing our hearts and minds on specific topics listed below. In this time of shared devotion, we can collectively seek His wisdom, healing, and guidance for these issues that touch our hearts and souls deeply." And so I am asking that we follow their suggestion and set that day aside as God's people for prayer and fasting.

Here are the topics to consider. Your fasting and prayer time of course is not limited to these topics:

- Exalting and thanking God for His great love and care for us.
- Confessing our sins to our holy God.
- For Christ's Church and for those attendees that need to sincerely invite Jesus to be Savior and Lord of their life.
- For Israel and the Gazans and all those impacted by war in the middle east and in Ukraine, and around the world.
- For many of our youth in America that need to be back in the Church.
- For our country and the elected leadership that seems to be so divided.
- For all pastors, leaders, and churches in this country and around the world

Let us seek the face of God in humility and holiness wherever we are throughout the day on November 19.
