CAMP TIME!!!!

We are so excited for the five kids we're sending to camp this month! We know that the assistance the church has provided will make a lasting impact on their faith journeys. Thank you to everyone who helped make this possible. Your support is helping shape young hearts and minds for Christ in a way that will stay with them forever!

P.S.

Kid City is August 2nd
we will need volunteers!

Reflections on the Church as a Safe Harbor

When people talk about a church being a safe harbor, they're invoking an image drawn from maritime tradition. A harbor is a sheltered place where ships can find refuge from storms, repair damage, and rest before continuing their journey. In the same way, a church as a "safe harbor" offers protection, care, and restoration to people navigating the challenges of life.

A Place of Refuge

Life can be turbulent. People come to church carrying the weight of grief, anxiety, loneliness, broken relationships, or personal failures. When the church is a safe harbor, it becomes a place where these burdens can be laid down without fear of condemnation or rejection. It offers acceptance, compassion, and grace—reminding everyone they are valued and loved.

Shelter from the Storms of Life

A safe harbor shields ships from violent winds and waves. Likewise, a church that acts as a safe harbor provides spiritual, emotional, and even practical shelter. This might mean offering prayer and encouragement, counseling services, meals for families in crisis, or simply a listening ear. It's about creating a culture where people know they won't be turned away or judged when they're at their lowest.

A Place of Healing and Restoration

Ships in harbor can be repaired before returning to sea. For people, a church can offer opportunities for healing and restoration through worship, teaching, pastoral care, and supportive relationships. It's a place where people can encounter hope, truth, and the transformative love of God, helping them regain strength and purpose.

Community and Belonging

A harbor isn't just about shelter—it's also a gathering point for sailors from many places. Similarly, a church that is a safe harbor fosters a genuine sense of community. It welcomes people from all walks of life, embracing diversity while offering a shared sense of belonging.

The Trinity Covenant

We at Trinity Church commit ourselves to supporting fruitful discipleship in ourselves and each other;
to prioritizing the well-being of people above all else as God does;
to creating an environment where spiritual,
emotional, and relational hurts are healed;
and to breaking down the social barriers that keep people from the unconditional love of Jesus.
Amen.
