“Gospel understanding is not only embedded in physical structures, but it is also communicated in the worship patterns of the church. The structure of a church’s worship service is called its liturgy. Many Protestants think ‘liturgy’ only describes highly ceremonial worship in Catholic, Orthodox, or Anglican churches. We normally talk about our worship in terms of a ‘Sunday service’ or the ‘worship time.’ The activities that surround the Sermon we may describe as the ‘song service,’ ‘the service of prayer,’ or simply as ‘the worship.’ However, the biblical word for all that’s included in our worship is ‘liturgy’ (latreia, see Rom. 12:1), and it simply describes the public way a church honors God in its times of gathered praise, prayer, instruction, and commitment. All churches that gather to worship have a liturgy—even if it’s a very simple liturgy.”
