LET’S JUMP IN...

What is something that has demanded consistency in your life even while transitioning from one ‘season’ to another?

SCRIPTURE:
Ecclesiastes 9:10  2 Timothy 2: 14-16

Notes:
DISCUSSION QUESTIONS

- What are you currently ‘giving your all’ for? Does this passion glorify God in any way and does it demand consistency?

- Has “Godless chatter” or “irreverent babble” ever caused a rift in one of your relationships? Why do you think this tends to happen so easily?

- What kinds of things help us become a “worker approved by God?” As we move through various seasons of life, what does it take for us to remain focused on being consistent in this area?

Prayer Requests:

________________________________________________________________________

________________________________________________________________________

________________________________________________________________________

________________________________________________________________________

________________________________________________________________________